

Freeing of Grenada recalled, with pride in Americans' bravery

A year ago today, American units freed the island of Grenada from Communist control and rescued hundreds of U.S. students there.

The courage and sacrifice of those who participated is being praised nationally and worldwide this week, including Captain Keith Joseph Lucas, 26, Granite City, who was killed.

THE 1975 GRADUATE of Granite City High School North graduated in 1975 from Washington University. He and his wife, Paula, were married in 1980.

A recipient of the Distinguished Flying Cross, he was buried here with full military honors Nov. 11. The pilot lost his life while operating a helicopter to airlift troops onto Grenada. Marxists had slain the leader of the government there, and concern was developing that many residents might be slain and that the college students might be taken hostage.

CAPT. LUCAS was in the 158th Aviation Battalion of the 101st Airborne Division. His UH-60 Blackhawk helicopter came under heavy anti-aircraft and small arms fire and he succeeded in crash-landing it although mortally wounded.

The helicopter touched down near Point Salines, at the southern tip of the 21-mile-long island, and continued to attract firing by Cuban or Grenadian forces. All four members of the crew were wounded and there also were casualties among Rangers and other personnel that the helicopter had been carrying, his father, Stanley Lucas, was told.

The freeing of Grenada was achieved by men based at Fort Campbell, Ky., and the captain's parents went there a year ago to learn as many details as possible of what had occurred.

LUCAS WAS INTERVIEWED on national television news this week as correspondents and public officials attempted to sort out varying reports of the casualty toll.

Newsmen were not taken on the mission but reached the island later. Secrecy is considered important to the success of such an effort, and the incursion developed so rapidly that authorities elected not to include non-government photographers and writers.

Rules have since been announced under which news media will participate in any future military or naval activity.

DEFENSE SECRETARY Caspar Weinberger said this week a full report has been made on Grenada.

He denied statements by two former military intelligence officers, Richard Gabriel and Paul Savage, that at least 19 more were reported killed in the invasion. The two are political science professors at St. Anselm's College, Manchester, N.H.

"Everyone who was killed in the operation was reported, including special operations personnel," Weinberger said. "The report has been made, fully, and no lives were lost that weren't reported."

STANLEY LUCAS said the Army told him of his son's death four days afterward and only made it public when he urged officials at Fort Campbell and in Washington to do so.

He said on NBC-TV that some Grenada information apparently has never been disclosed by the U.S.

Part of the current national discussion has focused on whether Navy "Seal" commandos and a special "Delta Force" conducted raids before the invasion officially began at 5:27 a.m. Oct. 25, 1983.

All Nov. 6 funds are for debt, teachers say

By BILL WINTER
of the Press-Record

All funds related to the Nov. 6 school election are earmarked for debt retirement and related budget balancing, the president of Teachers Federation Local 743 said today.

Mrs. Shirley Stoll, longtime leader of Local 743, said she and fellow teachers realize that the working cash fund bond issue and the education fund tax rate change—the two Granite City school items on the November 6 ballot—both are necessary to end the district's short-term operating debt and ease the high interest payments.

FUTURE STATE AID revisions, producing new revisions for School District Nine, are looked to for eventual employee pay increases, the federation president commented.

She acknowledged that no raises are being sought from the school ballot questions, since the two financial proposals are needed in their entirety to begin solving the school system's revenue crisis.

School personnel are among those cooperating with such groups as Citizens for Continued Education in urging "Yes" votes Nov. 6. Continuation of the district is at stake, the CCE asserts.

A PUBLIC MEETING on the school tax proposals has been set for 7 p.m. Thursday, Nov. 1, in the Granite City High School auditorium. Sponsors include Citizens for Continued Education, the GCHS Boosters Club and the Granite City Citizens Forum.

A speaker will outline the issues there are to be decided at the school election, and the general public will voice comments and questions. A moderator is to be chosen.

School Board members will be present at the public meeting to help in responding to questions. The auditorium can accommodate about

Madison city taxes on phones and water will be ended

By DONNA KIMBRO
of the Press-Record

Madison residents will no longer be required to pay a utility tax on their telephone and water bills, once a tax cutoff goes into effect.

The City Council agreed Monday night to eliminate those two utility taxes because the municipality has obtained other income to help meet city governmental costs.

"NOW THAT THE CITY has received $315,000 for its cable television system and equipment, this money has been invested and I think the city can do away with the taxes for the benefit of the residents," Alderman Thomas Gordon said.

He said the revenue being eliminated amounts to about $60,000 a year.

In 1981, when utility taxes were adopted, Madison officials reduced real estate taxes, it was noted. Since then, no further city employees have been laid off, a discussion brought out.

MAYOR MIKE SASYK asked the city attorney to begin the legal procedure for elimination of the taxes.

The city has experienced financial problems in recent years due to shrinking of the real estate tax base. A controversy has developed over the present size of city staffs and their pay levels.

In other business, the aldermen approved paying monthly bills of $54,312 and accepted a report from Police Chief Donald Bridick noting a four percent increase in crime in September compared to September 1983.

Fines amounted to $2,576. Burglaries listed were two residential break-ins, one auto looting and one garage burglary.

Vasil Graville, serving as city inspector while John Dutko is ill, reported 27 permits issued during the past two weeks.

THE FORMER DUFFIN Brothers building on Madison Avenue, a structure partially destroyed by fire, is being renovated and will soon open as a new restaurant, Sasyk said.

An offer of a pre-owned 1984 vehicle for $11,999 was tabled as being too costly. Police Chief Donald Bridick was instructed by Mayor Sasyk to seek other quotes on a similar car to be used by the police department.

The council approved a request from Fire Chief Mike Mack to designate Larry Lockett, Andrew Reynolds, Keith Endicott and Danny Spies as cadets on the fire department.

FIVE ORDINANCES were approved, including one banning discharge of sanitary sewage and industrial wastewater into storm sewers now being reconstructed along State Street between Market and Fourth streets.

Another regulates encroachment on the public right-of-way along State, from Market north to 14th

Grants denied

By SUSANNE INDELICATO
of the Press-Record

The Departments of Housing and Urban Development has denied grant requests for housing projects in Madison and Venice.

An aide to Cong. Melvin Price told the Press-Record Wednesday afternoon that a spokesman for the HUD office in Washington, D.C., has confirmed the rejections.

The decisions on Housing Development Action Grant (HODAG) applications were made Tuesday. The spokesman said the proposals from Madison and Venice were not on the list of those approved for funding.

THE MADISON COUNTY Housing Authority submitted applications in August for almost $3 million in grants to help pay for median- and low-income housing in Madison and Venice.

One of the proposals sought help in funding a $1.7 million project to rehabilitate the old Madison Junior High School building at Third Street and Alton Avenue. The project would have provided apartments for the elderly.

Another application sought funds for two new construction projects in Venice—a $1.7 million project, Venetian Court East, on property adjacent to the Venice Homes on S. 4th Street, and a $2.5 million project, Venetian Court West, across from the Bissell Street Apartments.

THE HODAG PROGRAM would have provided 40 to 50 percent of project costs. In return, the housing authority agreed to guarantee that a percentage of the housing would be available to low-income individuals and families.

Cong. Price's aide said all applications that met HUD's criteria were accepted, meaning that the MCHA applications were deemed to be deficient in some way. HUD would not

Halloween events to begin

By VALERIE EVENDEN
of the Press-Record

Hooting owls, black cats darting across one's path and mischievous hobgoblins looking for treats are almost upon us.

It's time to prepare for the traditional activities of Quad-Cityans' Halloween season.

COSTUME PARADES, a pumpkin patch, an all-night party and other events are scheduled in connection with the time of merrymaking and fun.

Because of past experiences, parents are being reminded to use caution. All aspects of safety are being stressed by authorities prior to the start of this year's activities.

As part of the overall precautions, youthful trick-or-treaters will be restricted to visiting homes in their own neighborhoods only, and between the hours of 6 p.m. and 9 p.m. Wednesday, Oct. 31. It was announced this week by Police Chiefs Ronald J. Veizer of Granite City, Don Bridick of Madison and Farris Smith of Venice.

SETTING ASIDE the three-hour period for trick or treating is not to discourage youngsters from having fun on Halloween, but to allow parents, law enforcement officers and friendly neighbors to watch out for the children's well-being during that time, it was emphasized.

Helping to make the holiday a safer and happier time for youngsters, St. Elizabeth Medical Center again will offer free X-ray of candies from 7 until 10 Halloween night.

Parents may bring their children's candy in small or medium size bags to the Radiology Department on the 21st Street side of the medical center. Free parking will be available in the 21st Street garage that evening.

Call for new bids on police cars

By SUSAN SIGNAIGO-WEICH
of the Press-Record

After a heated discussion Tuesday night, members of the City Council voted to readvertise for bids on acquiring five new police cars.

Challenges have arisen to proposals from the Granite Chrysler Plymouth Dodge, John Novotny Chevrolet and Dave Croft Chrysler Dodge agencies. No fault of any kind has been found with the bidders, but the aldermen continue to debate whether the city is being fair in the way it devises and compares vehicle specifications.

COUNCIL MEMBERS initially disagreed with the police committee's recommendation that they accept Novotny's low bid to specifications. The reasoning was that Granite Chrysler had come as close as it could to meeting the size requirements, in view of the size of the autos that its producer is making. The proposal discussed Tuesday was from Croft Motors, Collinsville. The firm has claimed it could sell autos about $500 cheaper than some dealers because of its volume contract with Illinois State Police to provide Dodge Diplomats.

Some council members responded this week that they were not happy with the prospect of buying cars from an out-of-town dealer.

CONCERN ABOUT servicing of the autos was voiced by Alderman Woodrow Moad. He said all police cars are checked daily, adding that extra mileage to Collinsville would

Sykes says need for new swimming pool is urgent

Granite City Park Board Pres. George Sykes stressed in campaign discussions this week that park officials are pushing strongly for public approval of a new swimming pool Nov. 6.

The need is urgent, he said, in noting that big sums are being spent on the present pool because of leaks and needed repairs.

CALLING FOR SUPPORT of the two Granite City school proposals on the November ballot, park leaders and citizens also are convinced the pool project stands on its own merits and deserves approval. The cost is small, and both the park and school proposals can be afforded simultaneously by all taxpayers, Sykes asserted.

In the event that school sports and other school extracurricular activities were halted, Granite City park facilities and recreation programs would be of great importance to local families, Sykes commented.

The park board president sees the 11-cent park tax rate proposal as doubly beneficial to citizens: It would assure an adequate swimming pool for years to come. And, by eliminating excessive repair costs, it would free up funds for other facets of the parks and recreation program.

STRESSING THE URGENCY of public authorization of a $1.2 million swimming pool bond issue, Sykes said the city cannot be indefinitely maintained.

Standard time returns Sunday

Spring forward; fall back. This fall, it once again is time to change time. As of 2 a.m. Sunday, Oct. 28, timepieces are to be turned back, restoring the hour that was lost when daylight saving time began last spring.

The return to central standard time can be accomplished by non-nightowls simply by changing their clocks and watches before they go to sleep Saturday night.

Instead of the longer summer evenings that were obtained by moving forward one hour in late April—the immediate effect next week will be brighter mornings, and faster arrival of darkness in the late afternoon.

For many people, the time of the year when they must depart from home in the dark and return home in the dark is not far away. Quad-Cityans as of this week are two-thirds of the way along their journey from the year's longest day to its shortest.

But that extra hour of sleep Sunday morning is going to be mighty welcome.

Natural gas price advisory vote in GC

By BILL WINTER
of the Press-Record

Voters in Granite City, Alton and 210 other Illinois cities will vote Nov. 6 on: "Shall the U.S. Congress enact the Natural Gas Consumer Relief Act, which rolls back home heating bills and limits future gas price increases?"

Other areas voting on the question include Peoria, Decatur, Belleville, East St. Louis, Danville, Carbondale, Waukegan, Aurora, Galesburg, Urbana, Rock Island and all of Cook County.

THE ADVISORY VOTE is not being opposed by utilities, and is expected to pass.

Some Republicans are critical of it, however, saying it may accomplish nothing except boosting the Senate candidacy of Democrat Paul Simon. Simon has been active in pushing for such a federal law. Chief among groups pushing for "yes" votes next month is Patrick Quinn's Coalition for Political Honesty, P.O. Box 708, Oak Park 60303 (telephone 312-524-1978).

The Coalition four years ago spearheaded a statewide vote that cut back the size of the Illinois House of Representatives from 177 to 118, and the group also was instrumental in formation of the Illinois Citizens Utility Board in 1983.

THE PROPOSED LAW calls for reinstating natural gas prices at their 1982 levels and extending price controls through 1987. Quinn says it would give "relief from skyrocketing home heating costs and save an average Illinois family $300 to $400 over the next three years."

He adds, "It is vital to our state because Illinois is so dependent on natural gas."

"BILLS DOUBLED in the last four years in some cities. Unless this or similar legislation passes, gas prices could rise another 14 to 17 percent next year alone.

"We believe 75 to 80 percent will support the referendum."

"The federal government started phasing out gas price controls six years ago on the theory free competition would reduce prices. Instead, they have risen dramatically since 1978 despite lower demand and greater supplies."

"THE LAST CEILINGS will expire Dec. 31. If these controls are lifted, prices for gas now under regulation may rise to the same levels as unregulated oil prices, a jump of nearly 30 percent."

"By voting on the Relief Act, consumers can send a clear message to lawmakers."

Congress has adjourned until January.

CANDY FOR A CAUSE: The 15th annual Candy Day Drive to aid the mentally retarded will be conducted by the Knights of Columbus and volunteers on Friday and Saturday, Oct. 26 and 27. Helping kick off this year's drive are, from the left, K of C Grand Knight Michael J. DeRuntz, drive co-chairman Andrew Mofsky Sr., Granite City Mayor Paul Schuler, Madison Mayor Mike Sasyk, State Representative Sam Volk, Madison County Board Chairman Nelson Hagnauer and drive co-chairman Steve Saltich Jr.

K of C Candy Days to aid the mentally handicapped this week

More than 5,000 Knights of Columbus and volunteers attired in yellow jackets will be seen at intersections, shopping centers and transportation terminals Friday and Saturday seeking contributions for the K of C annual fund-raising effort for the mentally handicapped.

Many of the civic leaders around the state—mayors, town presidents, and city managers—are supporting the K of C Candy Days by issuing proclamations declaring the last weekend of October a program in which the people in Illinois should take part.

Governor James R. Thompson has signed a bill declaring the MR drive should have full support of the citizenry. Radio and television spots featuring TV star Bob Newhart are being heard and seen throughout Illinois urging people to participate and support the MR campaign.

The Mentally Handicapped program complies with all the conditions set down by the Illinois Solicitations Act that permits qualified workers of organizations sanctioned by the attorney general's office to solicit funds on state highways running through towns that approve fund-raising collections at intersections.

All volunteers soliciting contributions during the two-day MR drive are covered by insurance. In line with the Solicitations Act, volunteers under the age of 17 are not permitted to collect donations on state highways or at intersections.

Since the Illinois Knights began their drive to help the mentally disabled in 1970, in excess of $9.7 million has been collected, most of it during the two-day drive each fall.

Ten percent of the gross receipts is set aside in a state fund for use in projects to aid the major mentally handicapped, such as Special Olympics, Inc. The balance of the collections, less the cost of the candy and minimal promotional expenses, is returned to community workshops, schools, and special organizations caring for the disabled youngsters.

Charge Madison man after meters struck

Michael R. Hoffman, 20, of 1123 Grand ave., Madison, was charged with reckless driving, leaving the scene of an accident and driving while his license was suspended, during the weekend.

According to witnesses, a 1973 Ford Ranchero, allegedly operated by Hoffman, accelerated from the 7-Eleven store parking lot, turned left onto Niedringhaus Avenue and right onto 18th Street, where the vehicle went over the curb and allegedly knocked over two parking meters and sheared off a metal streetlight pole in the 1200 block.

At that point, Hoffman's vehicle narrowly missed an auto, whose driver turned around and followed the Ranchero south on State Street, where it was found parked in the 1100 block, it was alleged.

Hoffman, who reportedly sustained an injury, was located and arrested. He was released upon posting a $102 cash bond.

Gets probation on 3 cannabis counts

William Kee, 30, of 2028 Ohio Ave. has been sentenced to two years of probation on three cannabis delivery charges filed June 21. He pleaded guilty Sept. 11 before Associate Judge Edward Ferguson.

Court costs of $95 were levied on each of the three counts.

Judge Ferguson ordered a fine of $700, payment of $70 in special costs, $160 restitution and 120 hours of public service work on one charge; $600 and $60 with $120 restitution, on the second charge; and a $300 fine, $30 special costs and $50 restitution on the third charge.

The charges were filed by the Metropolitan Enforcement Group of Southwestern Illinois (Megi).

The June arrests of Kee and two other men followed a nine-month investigation by Megi agents into alleged drug dealing in the vicinity of West 23rd Street, Illinois Avenue and Ohio Avenue.

Exam for assessing supervisor vacancy slated for Nov. 15

The Illinois Department of Revenue will administer an examination for supervisor of assessments of Madison County at 10:30 a.m. Thursday, Nov. 15, in the County Board Room, Courthouse, Edwardsville.

Qualifications for the position are at least two years' experience in the field of real estate sales, assessments, finance or appraisals. The applicant must also have passed the examination conducted by the department.

Applications are available from the office of County Clerk Evelyn M. Bowles by mail or in person at Room 211, County Courthouse, Edwardsville 62025.

GC patrolman switches to Illinois State Police

Granite City aldermen accepted the resignation of Patrolman Roger W. Hayes Tuesday night.

In a letter to the council, Hayes announced he has accepted a position with the Illinois Department of Law Enforcement. His last day of work with the Granite City police department will be Oct. 31.

Hayes, 32, has been a police officer in Granite City since September 1976. He is a native Granite Cityan, graduating from Granite City High School South in 1970.

He spent five years in the U.S. Army, serving initially as a chemical decontamination specialist and later as a military policeman. He received his discharge from the service in July 1976 at Fort Benjamin Harrison, Ind.

Hayes will begin his new job with the Illinois State Police on Nov. 4.

Bubblemasters to host Midwest Diving Council

The Bubblemasters Dive Club of Granite City will host the annual Midwest Diving Council's fall convention and awards banquet this weekend.

The two-day event will take place at the Holiday Inn in Alton.

Activities will include a business meeting, election of new council officers, a year-end awards banquet Saturday night and a film festival, according to John H. Burns of Pittsburg, Kan., vice president.

The Midwest Diving Council encompasses clubs in Kansas, Missouri and southern Illinois.

Bob Phillips of Kansas City, president, said the convention format also honors divers from member clubs who had outstanding achievements in skin and scuba activities during 1984.

Persons interested in attending the banquet may contact Bill Schaefer at 707-0998 or Paula Weiss at 931-2912 for details.

President of park board hospitalized

George Sykes, president of the Granite City Park Board, was admitted to St. Elizabeth Medical Center early Wednesday evening for treatment of chest pains.

His wife said he went to his doctor for a regular examination and with his complaint of chest pains and the physician decided to hospitalize Sykes.

The park president is in the Coronary Care Unit, where visitation is restricted to family members. He did not suffer a heart attack, Mrs. Sykes said.

SCREEN DOOR BROKEN

Mrs. Eddie Jones of 1126 Market St., Venice, told police this month that her home's screen door was damaged. She said she saw some youths throwing bricks at her home and suspects these people are responsible.

COLLISION DURING THE RAIN

Ruth A. Schroeder, 44, of 1300 Twenty-seventh St. was injured last week when her northbound car skidded during rain and hit the rear of the auto of Melba Evans, 2652 Missouri Ave. The latter driver had halted for a school crossing spotlight on Madison Avenue at 29th Street.

News notes

Sen. Charles H. Percy today is being presented a Madison County Board certificate of appreciation for his role in encouraging the A.O. Smith Corp. decision to reopen its Granite City auto parts plant. The ceremony is set for the Old Post Office building in St. Louis.

Indexing of the federal income tax will start Jan. 1 to prevent inflation from forcing taxpayers into higher tax brackets. Based on a consumer price index ruling Wednesday, that inflation was 4.1 percent in the 12 months ended Sept. 30, the standard deduction and personal exemption will be increased and the tax brackets will be widened by 4.1 percent.

Earl Gruber and Krista Bruns of Madison, Judge Norman Kinder, Stanley Lucas and Alan Loney, all of Granite City, and Milton Morris of Venice were named Monday night in Belleville to a new four-county Southwest Illinois Health Systems Agency that will review proposed health projects.

Morris B. Chapman and Jon G. Carlson, formerly law partners, are involved in a legal battle over division of their firm's clients.

$205,500 bid on Lake School

Highest bid received today on purchasing the former Lake Elementary School on East 23rd Street was $205,500 from Construction Concepts, 40 Whitworth Drive, Edwardsville.

The general contracting firm was one of two bidders. Sealed proposals were opened at 9 a.m. by Harold E. Briggs, regional superintendent of schools.

A bid of $180,000 was submitted by R. K. Stratman Co., St. Louis, which said its offer is contingent on getting needed zoning for its business, screen-printing.

Both proposals included a check of 10 percent of the bid.

The Granite City Board of Education can accept or reject, and is expected to make a decision on the bid Nov. 13, its next scheduled meeting.

Lake School no longer is in regular use by the school district. Earlier this year, the school district sold Johnson, Emerson and Washington schools.

Fluoridation fine but courts not

As a longtime backer of fluoridation to improve dental health, the Press-Record is pleased that the Illinois Supreme Court has ruled in favor of this state's 1967 fluoridation law, ending an astonishingly long legal battle between the Illinois Department of Public Health and the Illinois Pure Water Committee.

"Illinoisans will continue to reap the benefits of drinking fluoridated water," Thomas Kirkpatrick, IDPH acting director, commented. "New 40 percent are served by fluoridated water supplies. We are gratified by the court's decision, and the real winners in this case are the people."

A lawsuit filed in 1968 challenged the constitutionality and sought to enjoin fluoridation of water. Plaintiffs claimed that the procedure posed a health threat, but experts disagreed with the view. The court stressed that fluoridation is instrumental in reducing incidence of tooth decay.

Although we feel that truth, health and the American way prevailed, we wonder if the 16-year procedure says something mighty negative about the health of our court system.

The Alton-based case was dismissed by our Third Circuit Court, but the Appellate Fifth District after hearing an appeal remanded the case to the Circuit Court. In 1975, the complaint was amended to include the Illinois Environmental Protection Agency as a co-defendant with the state health department.

The case was heard in 1980 and the decision was rendered 20 months later; a visiting judge, Ronald Niemann, ruled in favor of the Pure Water Committee, concluding there had been "unreasonable exercise" of governmental power. He ordered the Alton Water Co. to discontinue fluoridation, but the state appealed and obtained a stay order from the Illinois Supreme Court. That appeal was heard in March 1984 and was decided Oct. 19.

Dentists may grind on our molars with considerable speed, but the wheels of justice continue to grind ponderously and slowly.

Al-Anon helps families of alcoholics

To the Editor,

The Al-Anon program is for the person who is affected by someone else's drinking. This is usually the wife, husband, mother, father or a concerned friend of a person whose drinking is causing serious problems.

We know that alcoholism is a family disease and that everyone in the family of the active drinker will suffer serious consequences of their drinking.

If someone in your family has heart disease or cancer, does this affect you?

Of course it does. The attitudes and behavior of those who care about affect the way we think, behave and feel.

Alcoholism is a serious physical and emotional disease, affecting not only the alcoholic, but those who are close to him. In many ways, the people around the alcoholic "catch" many of his symptoms — anger, fear and guilt, being just a few.

One of the best things Al-Anon does is help the newcomer learn real facts about alcoholism and how to apply this to his or her own life by coming to these meetings and sharing with someone that has or still is going through the same thing you are.

We come to believe that we are physically, emotionally and spiritually drained, living one day at a time, working this 12-step program and by doing this we can help us begin our own recovery.

We are always careful to protect each other's anonymity as well as that of the alcoholic.

We have morning and evening Al-Anon meetings. For information, call the Al-Anon answering service, 876-8467 anytime.

Let Weber continue fighting crime in county

To the Editor,

Sometimes it seems like the only people who take time to write their views are those with negative thoughts. I am writing to say thank you to our state's attorney, Don Weber.

I know at times Mr. Weber has felt alone in trying to fight the forces in Madison County which would prevent him to do the job the people of our county elected him to do — namely, prosecute, possible arguments whether they be public officials or other people.

I think now is the time for us law-abiding citizens to let Mr. Weber know he has never stood alone. Along with his loyal staff members who have fought beside him, there are many others who have backed him every step of the way.

Thanks, Don, for a job well done. I'm sure when Nov. 6 comes around, you will see how many people do believe you intend to continue to fight crime and corruption in Madison County. And that is exactly what the majority of the people want.

Students and future are worthy of support

To the Editor,

Why are we so limited in our vision? Emerson once said, "Hitch your wagon to a star" but in Granite City at present, the "stars" have all but disappeared.

Instead of focusing our attention on an expansion of programs to meet the needs of this decade, we struggle with our priorities over which programs to delete from our educational system.

Our main concerns center around "saving" programs rather than building new ones.

"Too costly," "Can't be done," "Facilities," "The arguments lack imagination and perseverance."

No church, no national monument, no school would ever have existed if our forefathers had listened to these feeble excuses.

Are we to believe there is no talent, no leadership, no child worthy of an annuity go to a surviving spouse (unless both husband and wife agreed it should not). So a widow couldn't be denied an annuity without her knowledge.

Are we too absorbed in our own survival to forget that our strength builds from one generation to the next? Now is the time to reverse the trend of decay in our public education system. It is a time to widen the bridge toward the future.

It is a time to assume leadership in our community and set an example for the nation.

Our approval of the bond issue is only a beginning. With our goals set to the future, we can restore the community pride and spirit of Granite City.

Even greater, we can develop a higher vision for us all.

Jobs and pension equity aided by Reagan

To the Editor,

When President Reagan took office, federal law allowed many private pension plans in America to retain provisions that have proven very unfair to women.

But Pres. Reagan is working hard to end many of these long-standing discriminatory practices. A pension equity bill he proposed now is moving through Congress.

It would make about 1.5 million more women eligible for pension coverage by lowering the age of participation from 25 to 21. It would reduce the number of working women who have a break in service for pension purposes simply because they took pregnancy leave.

It also would make it automatic that an annuity go to a surviving spouse (unless both husband and wife agreed it should not). So a widow couldn't be denied an annuity without her knowledge.

And it would allow the courts to apportion pension benefits fairly for alimony and child support.

In January 1981, unemployment in the auto industry was over 16 percent, and rising toward 24 percent. Domestic auto production was under 6.5 million per year and falling toward four million.

Mr. Reagan's economic recovery program cut taxes and reduced over-regulation to provide incentives for modernization. And he negotiated voluntary import restraints to give U.S. automakers a chance to revive.

Now, unemployment in the auto industry is below eight percent. More workers are on the job than before the recession, producing U.S.-made cars at an annual rate of almost nine million units.

Maintain GC schools' longtime excellence

To the Editor,

I have recently been notified that I am the recipient of an Illinois Speech and Theatre Association award presented for outstanding contribution in the field of speech education. I think I would be remiss at this time to accept this recognition with a mere thank you and a sense of personal gratification.

I would like to point out to the people of Granite City that the contribution resulting in this award was accomplished by the Granite City educational system and the award is recognition of the excellence of that system, not necessarily Richard King.

Almost from its inception, the excellence of our system has been recognized on a national as well as state and local levels.

Through our classrooms have passed a future commander of NATO, a United States senator, authors, musicians, professional people of the highest caliber in many fields, athletes, entertainers, and all the children of this town who have grown up in a safe, secure, and comfortable environment from all over the world in any university and college, including Oxford, Harvard, Massachusetts Institute of Technology, the U.S. military academies, or wherever higher learning was pursued.

I would also like to remind this town that the school system, along with the mill, has always been at the core of life in this community since sandbars were removed, sandy bottoms solidified, and people got down to the business of production.

From the time of L. P. Frohardt's leadership of our schools to the present, results have been a source of commendable pride.

Now the school system is in financial straits and must call upon the public once more for help and concern.

Granite City's most attractive quality has always been the people who live here and their desire to provide for their own and each other. I urge them to support the coming election.

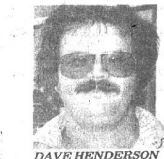

Also, I ask each to question why, with millions of dollars pouring into the Illinois state treasury every week from the collections made in the state lottery — which was made legal, by the way, mainly on the promise that the accrued moneys would be used for the betterment of education — why are we four of the seven largest nearby communities — East St. Louis, already bankrupt, plus Alton, Collinsville, and Granite City — in such dire financial straits?

Why, in Illinois, has more meant less? And why are funds in the Illinois General Fund, that mysterious, unaccountable well of financial beneficence, not reaching places where they are needed?

Handgun ban

Last week, the Illinois Supreme Court upheld a Morton Grove, Ill., ordinance that prohibits the possession of handguns in the community. Local residents were asked Tuesday what they would have ruled on the handgun ban had they been on the court. Their reactions follow:

Dave Henderson, Granite City

"I think everybody ought to have their own handgun for protection...to use in a sensible way."

Sheila Mathon, Granite City

"I think you ought to be able to (own handguns). I think you ought to be able to control gun use with permits, but you should be able to protect your family."

Bert Houston, Granite City

"I'm for gun control, but I still feel a person ought to be able to own a handgun if he wants to, be it for sports, protection, a hobby or whatever reason. That should be your right, and they shouldn't take it away from you."

Judy Dix, Granite City

"I think it's everybody's own business whether they own a handgun or not. It's the headache that I can't handle it. I don't want anybody to tell me I don't have a right to keep a gun for self-defense. Maybe there should be more restrictions with respect to issuing permits and licenses."

Working people, aged harmed by Reagan

To the Editor,

The crud remark of Vice-President George Bush should not surprise any of us. It has been obvious for the past four years that "kicking" is the lackey must used and understood by the Reagan-Bush administration.

Those kicks have been felt by the working citizens of America as the benefits and safe workplaces eroded under anti-labor assault.

Families have felt the punishment of sinking away from accountability before the World Court.

If it is "kicking" that we want, we and for senior citizens were slashed by the Reagan-Bush team.

Meanwhile, prices for utilities and health care have soared, and the number of Americans plunged into poverty is greater than at any time since the Great Depression.

Fifty thousand deaths in El Salvador are the fruits of the Reagan administration policies there.

Our nation was shamed by illegal acts in Nicaragua and the mentality of slinking away from accountability before the World Court.

If it is "kicking" that we want, we should return Reagan to the White House. Another four years will bring even more ruthlessness.

Before casting a vote, I suggest that every person find a copy of the November issue of the magazine, Mother Jones, and read the article on Reagan's appointee, Charles Z. Wick and his California pursuing homes. You will see some horrifying pictures.

This is a clear and alarming message which should affect every vote on Nov. 6.

There is no need to raise federal taxes

To the Editor,

Presidential candidate Walter Mondale has promised the American people that he will raise their taxes if he is elected. A lot of other people have also been calling for a tax hike or saying it will be inevitable next year, no matter who wins the election on Nov. 6.

Don't you believe it. The argument that we cannot reduce the government deficit without raising taxes is false.

The "red ink" problem exists, not because taxes are too low, but because of the deficit which has been growing too fast.

Even without a tax increase, the federal government's revenues will grow more than $1 trillion annually in four or five years. But spending will exceed the $1 trillion level sooner than that.

Those who want to raise your taxes contend that the deficit problem was caused, in part, by cutting taxes too deeply during the Reagan administration, and that the problem can't be cured by reducing spending because "it's already been cut to the bone."

The fact is that federal revenues have increased 30 percent in the last four years, from $517 billion to $673 billion.

During the same four years, the federal budget has risen by 45 percent, from $76 billion to $845 billion, proving that increasing the revenues does not reduce deficits. More government income just gives rise to more spending.

Since 1981, spending growth has been held to about seven percent a year by the Reagan administration — less than half the 15 percent annual increase during the Carter-

Mondale years.

But, it should be held to three percent or less in the years ahead. If we can do that, a growing economy will wipe out the deficit. In fact, he has already provided Congress with an array of opportunities to avert the consequences of spending-run wild.

Yet it won't be easy to derail the government gravy train, which has been on a one-way track for most of this century. It's an express run by politicians who gain applause today for offering new benefits, and disappear into the woodwork tomorrow when the cost has blown the public debt sky-high.

These free-spending politicians are not inclined to impose austerity now, which can be blamed on their predecessors. But if they won't listen to the alarms of economists, they will listen to the protests of the voters.

If the readers of this newspaper will join with other outraged taxpayers to let government know how they feel about the current appalling federal overspending, it can be stopped, or at least slowed down.

Readers can tell your representatives in Washington: "Look, we demand action now to stop excessive and unnecessary squandering of taxpayer funds for foolish projects, wasteful programs, and inefficient operations."

Realtors for park, school proposals

To the Editor,

I have been an affiliate member of the Granite City Board of Realtors for over 25 years.

I have never been more proud of an organization than I was on Oct. 17 when the Granite City Board of Realtors unanimously endorsed the passage of the school bond issue and the park bond issue.

Anyone remotely connected with real estate knows that the real estate market is sluggish at best.

Increasing taxes does not necessarily enhance the situation. However, the Realtors realize that to make this town grow, it is vital for us to keep our great school system and our beautiful park.

My hat is off to them in taking this stand.

School sisters may not continue

About 200 people attended a meeting at the Sacred Heart-St. Joseph School gymnasium to discuss whether nuns will remain in the parochial school.

School Principal Sister Mary Esther has said there is a possibility that the three sisters now with the school may withdraw from it at the end of the present school year in June 1985.

SHE TOLD told the Press-Record there is a growing shortage of sisters in the nation because fewer women are becoming nuns, some are retiring and some teaching nuns are choosing religious careers other than teaching.

Whether the sisters will be withdrawn from the school, Sister Mary Esther related, is a decision that will be made at the Dominican Mother House in Springfield, Ill. The decision is expected to be reached by January.

The current faculty at Sacred Heart-St. Joseph School consists of the three sisters who teach plus Sister Mary Esther and two other teachers.

IF THE TEACHERS withdraw from the school, the principal explained, the instructional program would continue but would be more expensive to maintain, since lay teachers would have to be hired to replace the nuns.

Sacred Heart-St. Joseph School has an enrollment of 231 students in the first eight grades.

Need for new pool

"We most likely know someone who does use the pool. It could be the only summer recreation some families can afford to enjoy on a frequent basis."

THOUSANDS of children have learned to swim in the park pool. Where is the next generation going to learn? Now about the senior citizens who enjoy a daily free swim? The pool is also an important part of the park summer recreation program, providing many youngsters the opportunity for free swimming.

"Questions can be raised: 'Why do we need a pool? What's wrong with the old one? Why don't they just renovate the old pool?'"

"We have evaluated and debated these questions for most of this year. It is the board's responsible conclusion that:

"1. We must have a low-cost public swimming pool. 2. It is not economically practical to fix the old pool.

"TOO MANY PROBLEMS would be involved in renovating the existing pool.

"Additionally, we could run into difficulty with new state regulations. We hired a professional architect to evaluate the old pool. Our decision is supported by his findings.

"What would a new pool do for us? It would allow us to continue our current programs. Also, there would be many more residents who would take advantage of the new pool.

"ANOTHER BENEFIT will be on-site parking, plus a new modern bathhouse, and more deck area on which to just sit and sunbathe.

"Accessibility will be an important feature for those with special needs. The locker rooms also will be used to supplement other programs, such as ice hockey and indoor soccer at the ice rink.

"The increased tax for the new pool is only expected to be about 11 cents per $100 valuation. For the garage home, as defined by the assessor's office, the cost per year would be $13.75. This assumes a $16,000 assessment reduced by $3,500 under Senate Bill 1799.

"On a $30,000 assessment ($90,000 home), the cost would be $33 a year.

"A FEW YEARS AGO, we retired a similar bond issue on the ice rink. The tax rate for that issue was four cents, so we are really only looking at an additional seven cents above the previous issue.

"With all the other considerations and increases affecting homeowners, I realize it is difficult to sell the idea of this new pool on cost alone.

"It has to be something we want as a community, something we can look at with the same pride we view the ice rink.

"GRANITE CITYVANS are a special commitment to our community, one that some 'outsiders' may not understand.

"Let's all join together in approving this new pool in Wilson Park for ourselves and for the next generation.

"Somebody, 45 years ago, did it for us," Sykes concluded.

Popcorn sales by Boy Scouts

To aid Cahokia Mound Council scouting activities as well as individual units, the council is selling Trail's End gourmet popcorn this week and through Nov. 1.

There are three one-pound packages in each reusable plastic bucket. Cost per bucket of popcorn is $4.

A special feature of the sale will take place on "sugar Saturday," Oct. 27, when all Cub Scouts, Boy Scouts and their unit leaders gather at unit meeting places and then proceed to canvass their area for orders.

The Granite City Park District will have special ID sessions on Saturday, Nov. 3. Pictures for the identification card will be taken at the Wilson Park office from 7 to 9 p.m.

The cards are used by residents at the time of registration for classes or for getting a discount at the Wilson Park ice rink or swimming pool.

In order to be eligible for an ID card, it is necessary to bring proof of residence, such as a current utility bill with both name and address. The cost of the card, which is good for three years, is $1.

Popcorn ordered by Nov. 1 will be delivered starting Nov. 19 by the same boy who received the order. The $4 per bucket will be collected at the time it is delivered.

A prize incentive program has been set up, assuring that each sale will help the scout, his pack or troop, and the council.

The sale was announced by W. Jean Grimaud, council president, and William R. Monical, scout executive.

Monical cited a growing need for supplemental income due to "escalating program costs, the need for camp equipment and maintenance, and continued growth in youth participation."

Primary income for scouting continues to be derived from communities' support of the United Way and the council's sustaining membership enrollment.

BURGLARY IS ATTEMPTED

Earl Hines of 218 West Third St., Madison, told police last week, that he was visiting at the home of Deborah King, 1009 Market St., Venice, when he heard someone trying to open the door and footsteps on the porch. Hines said he waited in the chair but heard no further noises. Upon investigation, he noticed that the side lock on the kitchen door on the west side of the house was bent. Entry was not gained.

on the Granite City school referendum is being videotaped this week for airing on Southwestern Cable Channel 1 on Tuesday evening, Oct. 30, Mrs. Stoll told the Press-Record.

The tentative time of the 30-minute broadcast is 7 p.m. Oct. 30, she said. Along with questions and answers on school topics, scenes of classes and activities will be shown.

She said Local 743 plans to issue a statement in support of the election issues, and added that the proposals also have been endorsed by Congressman Melvin Price.

Vehicle parking is being prohibited along State Street during the construction period.

Council members decided to annex another 50-foot parcel of land adjacent to 49 acres previously annexed to the east of the Cloverleaf Addition and owned by Illinois Power Co.

SHOPPING AREA expansion was discussed and Mayor Sasyk was authorized to negotiate with owners of property that potentially could be used for additional retail businesses. County Treasurer Mick Henkhaus advised the city that a new tax collection law became effective in September, enabling taxing bodies to obtain interest from the investment of newly-collected funds or devote it to county jail costs.

The issue was referred to City Attorney Casper Nighohossian to study and submit his opinion at the next council meeting.

Zoning board slates site hearings

The Madison County Zoning Board of Appeals will consider a request Thursday, Nov. 1, from Theodore Kapp, marketing representative of Waffle House, and Herman W. Schoeber III, a purchaser, to rezone 1.78 acres in Chouteau Township from a B-3 highway business district to an M-1 limited manufacturing district.

The board will conduct an on-site hearing on the request at 10:30 a.m. The property is located on Chain of Rocks Road, directly behind a Phillips 66 service station.

Other on-site hearings that day involve requests for special use permits to place mobile homes in the county.

The board will hear a such a request at 9 a.m. from Allen Glasper, who wants to place a mobile home in an R-4 single-family residence district located at Poplar Street and Eagle Park Road in the Watson Subdivision in Nameoki Township.

At 9:20 a.m., the board will consider a request for a special use permit for Myron Vernon Branch and Elbert Branch. They want to place a mobile home in an R-4 single-family residence district at 308 Hare Street, Eagle Park Acres, Nameoki Township.

An on-site hearing at 2628 Missouri Ave. in Venice Township is scheduled for 9:50 a.m. Loretta and Lloyd McKnight seek to place a mobile home in an R-4 single-family district.

Dorothy Gibson's request for a special use permit to place a mobile home in an R-3 one-family residence district at 2683 Missouri Ave. in Venice Township will be heard by the board at 10:10 a.m.

After the on-site hearings, the board of appeals will convene in the offices of the Building and Zoning Department to decide on its recommendations.

Cannabis felony charge, firearm card allegation

An informational document—issued through the Madison County state's attorney's office to Venice police Monday—charged a Granite City man with a felony count of cannabis possession. Bond was set at $50,000.

Thomas Hogue, 37, of 1607 Spruce St. also was booked on a misdemeanor count of not having a firearm owner identification card for a .38 caliber pistol, and was served with a Granite City warrant alleging failure to appear on a speeding charge.

Hogue was arrested during the weekend in an alley near his home after police pursued a motorist from the 1000 block of College Street in Venice. An officer had become suspicious due to a license plate oddity.

After the vehicle was halted, Venice police searched the car and its occupant. Granite City police assisted and it was alleged that a plastic bag contained about 100 grams of cannabis.

Schermer heads Chamber

David R. Schermer of Granite City was installed last night as 1984-85 president of the Tri-Cities Area Chamber of Commerce and Jacqueline Abrams DeWitt was sworn in as president of the Women's Division.

Guest speaker at the annual Chamber meeting was Robert D. McBride, president of National Steel Corporation.

Schermer, 29, is owner-operator of Schermer's Supermarket in Madison. His service on the Chamber board of directors began in 1979.

He attended Granite City public schools, graduating in 1973, and next attended Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville, where his major was psychology and his minor was business.

Schermer started his full-time association with the grocery business in 1976. He is past president of the Pontoon Beach Lions Club and of Independent Supers, Inc.

The new Chamber president has served on the board of the Tri-City Area YMCA. He has been an adviser to the Granite City High School off-campus education program.

ROBERT MCBRIDE

the parents of Amanda, five years old, and Kathryn, two.

Mrs. DeWitt was educated in Pinckneyville, coming to Granite City in 1962. She is married and the mother of two children and three stepchildren.

Employed at the Chamber of Commerce office for 10 years, she next was employed at American Steel Foundries until its shutdown and then the Financial Planning Center. She currently is employed as a secretary by the Communication Workers of America in St. Louis.

A member of St. John's United Church of Christ, she serves on the Altar Guild and Christian Board of Education.

Mrs. DeWitt spent six years as a Junior Achievement adviser and is active in the Granite City Amateur Hockey Association.

She has been a member of the Chamber's Women's Division for the past six years, participating as a board member and officer for the past four years and actively helping with the traditional children's Christmas party and the division's fashion show.

She has served on the Community Betterment and Ambassadors committees of the Chamber and assisted with the annual clean-up campaign numerous times.

Robert D. McBride, 56, began his career as an industrial engineer at Granite City Steel in 1956. He held various positions in the operating department and became vice president of operations in 1966.

In January 1976, after Granite City Steel became a division of National Steel Corp., McBride advanced to the presidency. In 1977, he was named president of National's Great Lakes Steel Division in Ecorse, Mich., near Detroit.

McBride in January 1982 became president of both the Great Lakes and Midwest Steel divisions. Midwest is at Portage, Ind., in the Chicago area.

In September 1982 he was appointed executive vice president for operations of the Steel Group of National Steel. He then was named president of National Steel Corp. in May 1983.

McBride is a graduate of the U.S. Military Academy at West Point and a graduate of the Harvard Business School's advanced management program.

He has served as president of the Association of Iron and Steel Engineers and is a member of the American Iron and Steel Institute.

Matthew Cotter installed DeMolay master councilor

Matthew J. Cotter was installed master councilor of James Stuart Chapter, Order of DeMolay, in public ceremonies at the Granite City Masonic Temple. He is a son of Mr. and Mrs. William D. Cotter, 3730 Joyce Ave., and is a senior at Granite City High School.

Other senior line officers installed were: Ralph F. McKinley Jr., senior councilor; J. Gary Ishum, junior councilor; Steven W. Canada, chaplain; Terry R. Cory, treasurer; Bryan W. Forbes, senior deacon; Eric L. Smith, junior deacon; B. Edward Bodman, senior steward; Bryan K. Pritchett, junior steward; Brett R. Garner, sentinel; T. Glenn Goodman, steward bearer; Michael J. Mater, almoner; Gary D. Carroll, Marshall; Bobby W. Whitford, orator; Phillip H. Cruise, first preceptor; Timothy J. Glendening, protem for Jeffrey S. Isenberg, second preceptor; Robert Petty, third preceptor; James E. Wright, fourth preceptor; Frank J. Hahn Jr., fifth preceptor; Stacy J. Stoyanoff, sixth preceptor; Bern J. Heintz, seventh preceptor; Donald E. Payne, protem for Fred D. Trebing, scribe.

All officers were installed by the Granite Court of Chevaliers which included Dwayne A. Pritchett, installing officer; Neal A. Mize, installing senior councilor; Jimmy K. Stuart, installing junior councilor; Ellis N. Hackney Jr., installing Marshall; David T. Medley, installing chaplain; Anthony P. Tsigoloff, installing senior deacon.

As the ceremony opened, the installing Marshall escorted the following to the altar where they were introduced: Beth Ann Bodman, the chapter's sweetheart and the 1984-85 Illinois State DeMolay Sweetheart, Jay O'Brist of Centralia, Illinois DeMolay state master councilor; Mary K. Stuart, administrator of Mother's Clubs of Illinois; "Dad" Jimmy E. Stuart, executive administrator of DeMolay Association of Southern Illinois and honorary member of the International Supreme Council; "Dad" Edward C. Bieser, executive officer for the jurisdiction of Illinois, active member of the International Supreme Council Order of DeMolay and a 33 degree Mason.

Hackney then escorted each individually to the East where they were welcomed as special guests by the installing officer.

The "Ode to the Flag" was given by Neal Mize. After Cotter was given the gavel of authority by the installing officer, he thanked the installing team and the chapter members for electing him master councilor, and extended appreciation to Bill Patterson who sang solos for him and his mother at the altar, Marilyn Chrusciel who accompanied the soloist, Fran Holt who played for the installation marching, the York Rite Bodies of Granite City for their contribution to the expenses of the Illinois DeMolay Sweetheart reception and others for their participation in the ceremonial.

Introduced and speaking were Beth Barr, honored queen of Bethel 43, International Order of Jobs Daughters, (who introduced the Bethel's officers) and Charlotte Root, Bethel guardian. Gary Carroll, the chapter's Marshall, escorted Mr. and Mrs. Cotter to the altar where Matt presented his mother with an arm bouquet of roses and his dad with a boutonniere. He then presented other members of his family, his brothers Mark and David; grandparents - Mr. and Mrs. Michael Lombardi; great aunt and uncle, Mr. and Mrs. Ferd Loftus of Balwin, Mo.; aunt and uncle, Mr. and Mrs. Aaron Graham and their daughter, Erin; special guests, Mr. and Mrs. Lynn Allen and several neighbors.

Introduced were: "Dad" Robert Ashcraft, workshopful master of Triple Lodge, 835 A.F. & A.M.; Timothy Filkins, senior warden of Granite City Lodge 877 A.F. & A.M.; "Dad" Ellis N. Hackney, excellent high priest of Granite City Chapter 221 Royal Arch Masons (the sponsoring body of the chapter); "Dad" Jimmy E. Stuart, eminent commander of Emanuel Commandery 81 Knights Templar and president of the DeMolay Unit of Almad Temple; Jolene Keel, worthy matron and Harlen Keel, worthy patron of New Hope Chapter 432 Order of Eastern Star; Wanda McDonald, associate matron of Granite Chapter 650 Order of Eastern Star; Curtis Bosworth, secretary of George Washington High Twelve 539 of Granite City; DeMolays from chapters in the area including a delegation of DeMolays and advisors from Tinley Park which included "Dad" Russ Scanlon, chapter advisor and past state master councilor and past state master councilor and Paul Helmstetter ritual advisor; chapter sweethearts from Alton Chapter, Kathy Tindall from Ascalon chapter, Collinsville and Glenda Weckman.

The president of the Mother's Club, Debbie Pritchett, was introduced, and presented her officers and asked the Mother's Club members to stand. They were given a standing ovation for their support of the chapter including Barbara McKinney and Martha Simpson, both past presidents. Mrs. Pritchett then presented, on behalf of the Mother's Club, a Holy Bible with a DeMolay Emblem to the newly installed master councilor.

Chapter advisor, "Dad" Charles A. Meyer presented a past master councilor's jewel to Neal A. Mize, and Mize then presented Matt with a master councilor's pin and the "DeMolay of the Term" trophy to J. Gary Ishum. Gary was bestowed the same honor April, 1984 by past master councilor Stuart.

A "DeMolay Hats-Off" award was awarded to Debbie Pritchett, by "Dad" Ellis N. Hackney Jr. "Dad" Edward C. Bieser, executive officer for the jurisdiction of Illinois, presented Jo Meyer with a "Medal of Appreciation" from the International Supreme Council in recognition of outstanding service to the Illinois Order of DeMolay and the James Stuart Chapter in particular. She is the wife of the chapter advisor, and has been active for a number of years at the chapter, district and state level.

Meyer gave Pat Tsigoloff a DeMolay "Hats-Off" award for her many years she served the local chapter through her Mother's Club membership.

Mr. and Mrs. William Cotter presented him with a walnut gavel appropriately inscribed. The master councilor with the assistance of the chapter advisor presented "Certificates of Appreciation" to George Washington High Twelve Club 539 of Granite City and Triple Lodge 835 A.F. & A.M., for sponsoring Steven W. Canada at the International DeMolay leadership conference at Arcadia in June and to the York Rite Bodies of Granite City and Granite City Lodge 877 A.F. & A.M. for sponsoring T. Glen Goodman at the same conference.

The DeMolay "Flower Talk" was given by Ralph F. McKinley Jr. Introduction of the advisory council was made by "Dad" Meyer and the Nine O'Clock Interpolation given by Chaplain Steve Canada followed by "The Forming of the Cross" by the Jobs Daughters from Bethel 43.

The installation was adjourned to the dining room where refreshments were served by the Mothers Club during the reception for the officers, and music for dancing and listening was by "Dad" Dwayne Pritchett.

Dorcas Group plans events

Members of the Dorcas group of Central Christian Church discussed attending consecration day planned for Sunday and Monday, Oct. 28 and 29, at the church, during a monthly meeting of the group held last week.

Mrs. Mary Turner entertained the group in her home and Chairman Beth Spengler conducted the meeting.

Mrs. Betty Rush, general CWF study chairman, visited the session and offered to order "Partners in Prayer" devotion booklets to be used during the advent season.

Arrangements to host World Community Day on Nov. 2 at Central Christian Church were discussed. The annual event is sponsored by Church Women United and registration is set at 7 p.m. with the service to commence at 7:30 p.m. Refreshments will follow, it was explained.

The chairman announced several members attended Hillcrest Christian Church in Belleville to hear Dr. D. Duane Cummings who recently returned from a tour of the Soviet Union.

She added the Dorcas Group will host the Nov. 1 general meeting with the study and worship to be presented by Myra Parrish. Her topic, "Stories of Life" is a second in a series on the Gospel of John.

The meeting closed with the CWF benediction. A desert course was served to those named and to Vanna Birkgibler, Lumeta Durbin, Margaret Rutter and Helen Stone.

REV. THURMAN YORK
Former pastor to speak locally

Dr. Thurman York, of Tulsa, Oklahoma, will be ministering on Sunday, Oct. 28th, at Tri-City Park Tabernacle, 3400 Maryville Road, in both the 10:30 a.m. and 7 p.m. services, it was reported by host pastor, Rev. Jim Parks.

Dr. York, now a Family Consultant conducting Better Life Seminars throughout the United States, is a former Pastor at Tri-City Park, and served in that capacity from 1979 to 1981. In addition to his credits as a family consultant and educator, Dr. York is the former Associate Director of Spiritual Care at the new million-dollar complex of the Oral Roberts' City of Faith Medical Center in Tulsa, Okla., according to Rev. Parks.

The guest speaker, who holds several degrees in academics and theology, has studied at universities in Canada, Oklahoma, New York, and California. He has administered programs of the Demonstration Center for training of teachers of the handicapped in Buffalo, N.Y., and California.

Later in California, he helped establish a new state project, under the efforts of the Fresno Mental Health Department for the treatment of psychological and behavioral disorders among youth. The program was a pilot program for President Ronald Reagan, then governor of California.

Rev. Parks said everyone is invited to attend, free of charge. Further information about Dr. York's Better Life and Marriage seminars may be obtained by calling the church at 931-4500.

Madison students learn to cast ballots

Students in the Madison Middle School have been using the official voting machine to cast ballots in a mock election in their social studies classes.

The machine was loaned to the school by the office of Madison County Clerk Evelyn Bowles.

The social studies teachers, Margaret Rehagen, eighth grade, Al Vonde Haar, seventh grade, and Willie Watts and Nick Jaklich, sixth grade, gave instruction in the voting process. The students were registered and given directions for use of the machine ballot and stylus. Each child experienced the voting process as adults do in official elections.

Earl McClanahan, principal, said many of the students were surprised that the voting process was so easy. One said, "My folks have never voted because they don't know how. It's so easy. I can show them how and they can vote, too."

HONORED, Thurl C. Jones of Granite City, Madison County director of court services, right, accepts the IPSCA Leadership Award from George M. Gallagher, president of the Illinois Probation and Court Services Association, at the group's annual conference, held in Lake County.

State association honors probation, court employees

Personnel from the Madison County Probation and Court Services Department were honored last week at the annual conference of the Illinois Probation and Court Services Association. The event was held in Lake County, Ill.

Thurl C. Jones of Granite City, director of court services for Madison County, was presented the IPSCA Leadership Award for his "many years of support to the association."

The award was presented by George M. Gallagher of Waukegan, president.

Other employees of Madison County Probation and Court Services honored with awards included:

Chief Juvenile Probation Officer Gary Schumacher, who received the IPSCA Service Award for highest degree of dedication and service to the association.

Superintendent of Detention Darrell McGibany, winner of the William C. Albertson Award for highest standards of the profession in achievement.

Mrs. Diana Schrage, juvenile intake and court liaison officer, received a Line Staff Award for outstanding contributions in the field. Tom Compton, public service employment coordinator, was presented the Adult Probation Line Staff Award for outstanding contributions.

GC aldermen put truck ordinance on 1st reading

Despite objections voiced by various local trucking companies last week, Granite City aldermen Tuesday night approved first reading of an ordinance requiring placement of tarpaulins over loose loads.

An effort by several aldermen to suspend the rules and place the measure on final passage failed.

According to the ordinance, substantial damage has been done to municipal streets, and expenses are incurred by the city in cleaning and repairing streets because loads are spilled.

It adds that the current provision of the Illinois Municipal Code prohibiting spillage does not provide adequate redress for the damages done and the expenses encountered.

Loads that must be covered include sand, dirt, gravel, slag, grain, coal, coke, shingles, wood, brush, tree trimmings, used building materials and loose debris.

The ordinance pertains to any truck, trailer, semi-trailer, dump truck or pickup truck with an unloaded weight of greater than 4,000 pounds.

Vehicles exempt from the law are those owned by government entities such as Granite City, Granite City Township, Granite City Community School District Nine and the Granite City Park District.

The fine for violation of the ordinance is to be between $25 and $100 for each offense.

Although the proposed law was placed on first reading, several aldermen voiced strong disapproval of it.

Alderman Stephen Saltich said he is not in favor of running J.C. Hauling and other trucking companies out of town.

Harold Fuits, owner of J.C. Hauling, said last week the ordinance could cause him to go out of business. He said some companies are trying to correct the spillage problem and he feels they should be given another chance.

Alderman Everett Morien agreed, saying the city is trying to "smother" the trucking business and, as a result, is putting jobs in jeopardy. "I'm for keeping jobs," he said. "I don't think we should be tightening down on the trucking business."

Paul Ray Bowler, an alderman and truck firm official, reiterated that the ordinance is not aimed at any one company. He said some firms have not made an effort to correct the problem.

Alderman Paul Fisk said he is in favor of the ordinance. He said he and several other council members stood on 20th Street several months ago and counted a large number of trucks that were spilling debris.

"If something has been done to correct the spilling problem, it apparently is not adequate enough," he said.

The measure will be considered for final passage at the Nov. 7 council meeting.

Group establishes scholarship fund

The Willing Workers of America will conduct a monthly meeting at 10 a.m. Saturday at the YMCA. Speaker will be Greg Mudge, marketing manager of economic development for the Regional Commerce and Growth Association.

During the September meeting, President Steve Ortiz introduced Rosanna Herren, assistant to the provost of the Granite City Center. She showed a slide presentation, distributed brochures, and catalogues, and explained programs offered by the two-year college center.

Other business included introduction of two newly-appointed trustees, Verna Kidman and Jim Ortiz.

The organization has decided to establish a scholarship fund at Granite City High School. Four members, Steve Ortiz, Al Lottus, Jim Ortiz and Serelda Pasley, assisted Project Vote in registering local residents.

Steve Ortiz and Dale Onkle participated in the Social Service Network Workshop Oct. 4 in Collinsville. Ortiz served on a panel as a spokesman for the Willing Workers.

INJURED IN 3-CAR CRASH

George Plafcan, 61, of 625 Fleming Ave., Mitchell, was injured and was taken by ambulance to St. Elizabeth Medical Center last week after his auto was sandwiched between two others in the 2300 block of Madison Avenue. Carol Kidman, No. 8 Nightingale Court, had stopped to make a left turn. There was damage to the rear of her auto, both ends of Plafcan's car and the front of the van of John Allen, 3124 Jill Ave.

WOMAN ALLEGES BATTERY

Cynthia McDougale of 35 Garesche Homes, Madison, told police last week that she was visiting a friend at Lee Wright Homes when a fight broke out between herself and a man. The man allegedly struck her back with either a fork or a knife, leaving a puncture wound. Miss McDougale was taken to St. Elizabeth Medical Center for treatment where she was kept overnight for observation.

POSTS BAIL ON WARRANTS

Charged in warrants with possessing alcohol and contributing to the delinquency of a minor, John R. Jackson, 21, of 4444 Washburn Ave., was released from custody last week on $252 bail.

Boy Scouts attend Camporee

Boy Scout Troop 46 recently attended the Diamond Jubilee Family Camporee at Camp Sunnen in Potosi, Mo. The scouts participated in five activity villages during the three-day event: Mountain Man Village, Brown Sea Island Village, Handicapped Awareness Village, Hillbilly Village and Olympic Village.

Steven Smith earned first-place ribbons in the long jump and in the rope climb. The Eagle Patrol won first-place trophies in patrol flag competition, inspection and unique campsite.

Scouts in the Eagle Patrol are patrol leader Doug Rogers, assistant patrol leader Steven Smith, Eric Stone, Carl Reed, Allen Williams and Stephen Lane.

Special family activities included tours of the camp and a scavenger hunt. Those winning the hunt were Jim, Evelyn and Brenda Holmes; George and Bea Stevenson; Don and Sharon Rogers; Don and Donna Lane; John, Betty and Sara Stone; George, Carolyn, Melissa and Jason Smith; Randy, Sandy and Danny Smith, and Bob and Barbara Hinson.

The weekend ended with a bonfire and the Camporee staff provided a supper on Saturday evening to all participants.

Burl Hand receives award

Project Help honored one of its members for outstanding achievement in fund raising during a United Steelworkers Political Action Committee dinner.

To show appreciation to an active member, USWA District 34 Director Buddy Davis, on behalf of Project Help, awarded a plaque to Burl Hand, USWA Local 30 president. Hand raised $3,000 in a promotional activity.

Davis commented at the dinner that "in difficult times such as these, individual extra effort can make the difference, and Burl Hand is an example of a person making a difference."

Hand has played an active role in various Project Help fund raisers, even though his particular local at Granite City Steel has only a handful of members laid off.

Hand said of the award, "Those of us working, not just steelworkers, need to show those who are out of work that they have not been forgotten."

Project Help, which consists of union members, churches and a private agency, was formed to provide food on a monthly basis to laid-off workers. The group was formed in February 1983, when the economy had caused many individuals to be out of work on a long-term basis. It was felt that if families could receive food assistance, it would relieve a major part of the financial pressure on them.

In 1983-1984, the organization aided more than 12,000 people in Madison and St. Clair counties. Since Project Help is a totally volunteer organization, a spokesman said, it is solely supported by fund-raising activities and contributions made by individuals, union members, industry, churches and businesses. The group raises funds by sponsoring dances, bake sales, gate collections and barbecues. To date, it has raised in excess of $50,000.

ALARM SCARES BURGLAR

Willis Kieffm of 1838 Market St. told police last week that the glass on his garage door to his home was broken out and the door pushed ajar, setting off an alarm. There was no entry made to the home. Apparently, the alarm scared off the intruder.

BURGLAR RANSACKS HOME

A burglar broke a window and ransacked the home of Mrs. Donna Pauls, 2209 Terminal Ave., last week.

Nameoki Town Board to fill trustee vacancy in November

By SUSANNE INDELICATO
of the Press-Record

Nameoki Township residents who would like to serve on the Nameoki Town Board of Trustees have an opportunity to be considered for such a post.

The board Monday night decided to postpone appointing someone to fill a trustee vacancy so that more residents would have an opportunity to apply.

THE ORIGINAL agenda for the meeting called for an appointment to fill the vacancy, but Township Supervisor Harry Briggs said, "We thought we'd hold off on that. We'd like to give everybody consideration. I think we'll hold off until the next meeting."

The board's next meeting is scheduled for Nov. 13. Following Briggs' comments, Trustee Helen Hawkins presented an application from Bob Brave. "He has indicated he will serve without compensation. I highly recommend him for the job," she said.

TOWNSHIP TRUSTEES currently are paid $175 a month, plus $100 in expenses per month. Briggs told the Press-Record the trustees will review the applications from those hoping to fill the vacancy created when Trustee W. Lee Adams resigned and was appointed highway commissioner last week.

If the applicants appear to be qualified for the trustee position, Briggs said the board may interview them before choosing someone.

ADAMS WAS appointed commissioner after former Highway Commissioner Frank Mehelic was ousted by order of Madison County Chief Associate Judge Edward C. Ferguson. Mehelic had been convicted of official misconduct.

Persons other than Brave believed to be under consideration for the trustee vacancy include Ken Davis, Norman Hall and Del Whitesell.

On another topic, Briggs told board members that if they intend to go to a township officials' conference in Springfield next month, they must let him know.

MRS. HAWKINS suggested that trustees attending the conference present receipts before being reimbursed for their expenses on the trip. She recommended that each trustee attending be reimbursed for expenses up to $300.

Briggs countered that it would be difficult to obtain receipts for some items, such as taxicab rides. No action was then taken on Mrs. Hawkins' recommendation.

A letter from Madison County Treasurer Michael "Mick" Henkhaus informed the trustees of the Local Governmental Tax Collection Act recently signed into law by Gov. James Thompson.

HENKHAUS INDICATED that taxing districts can request the interest earned on tax payments received by the county, if the taxing district notifies the county 30 days before the receipts are to be distributed that it wants the interest.

If a taxing district, such as Nameoki Township, requests the interest, its tax levy will be reduced by the amount of interest it receives, resulting in lower real estate taxes for the residents.

If the taxing district does not ask for the interest, the interest money goes toward operation of the county jail.

BRIGGS SAID the board has not decided if it will request the interest money. "We will give it some consideration. We need to know how much money this amounts to for us."

The trustees unanimously voted to hire Mary Beth Karlechik as a township office employee. Briggs noted that the staff needed another member since Shirley Denson left and returned to her job as dispatcher for the highway commissioner.

Briggs informed the board that the township received a $50 citation because a burglar alarm on the township building sounded last week. He said the alarm probably was activated by high winds.

The township was cited, he continued, because a new county ordinance allows the sheriff's department to make only two calls in response to false alarms.

FILE RESISTING AND CONDUCT CHARGES

Called to a disturbance in the 2000 block of Washington Avenue last week, officers alleged a man had a large piece of wood in his hand and was yelling toward a residence when they arrived.

DOUGLAS E. JUSTUS, 23, of 2020 Washington Ave., refused to be quiet and was forced to get off a front porch, but broke free from an officer and ran around another dwelling before being caught. He was charged with resisting arrest and disorderly conduct and posted a $104 before being freed.

STEREO EQUIPMENT GONE

A burglary at the home of Bradley Pennybaker, 1038 Third St., Venice, reported last week, netted the intruder items valued in excess of $1,500. Missing from the home were a stereo receiver, turntable, tape deck and speaker with a total value of $1,200, a wristwatch worth $300 and a 10-inch color television.

NAMEOKI-WASHINGTON CRASH

Cheryl E. Ferrell, 33, of 2137 Grand Ave., was hurt at 12:15 p.m. Monday and was taken by ambulance to St. Elizabeth Medical Center. Her auto, eastbound on Washington Avenue, was involved in a collision with a vehicle operated by Larry R. Williamson, 18, of 1603 Kennedy Drive, Madison, southbound on Nameoki Road. She was cited for failure to yield the right-of-way.

10 hurt in 3-car crash on Fehling

Ten people sustained injuries at 8:55 p.m. Monday in a three-car accident on Fehling Road, about 500 feet west of the Nameoki Road intersection.

According to a police report, the mishap occurred when an eastbound auto driven by Lisa M. Owens, 16, of 4944 Redwood Lane, struck the rear of a vehicle halted in traffic operated by Wanda Tindall, 36, of 2532 Circle Drive.

The impact pushed the Tindall auto against another car, also stopped in traffic, operated by Kenneth Quinlan, 40, Collinsville. All three vehicles were facing east.

Several of those hurt in the Owens auto are believed to be cheerleaders at Granite City High School who were enroute home after attending a regional soccer tournament at the GCHS soccer field.

Taken by ambulance to St. Elizabeth Medical Center were Mrs. Tindall, Miss Owens and Lisa Andrews, 16, of 90 Shirwin Drive, a passenger in the Owens car.

Kenneth Quinlan and two children in his auto, Melissa Quinlan, 10, and Matthew Quinlan, 7, both of Collinsville, sustained injuries and were taken to St. Elizabeth Medical Center by Mrs. Patricia Quinlan, also a passenger in the car.

Other passengers in the Owens car, taken to the Granite City hospital by parents or by means other than ambulance, were:

Colleen Ryan, 16, of 2528 Stratford Lane, Gwynne Johnson, 15, of 3803 Lake St., Pontoon Beach, Monica Smith, 15, of 4150 Division St., Pontoon Beach, and Michelle Bertsch, 16, of 10 Eduardo Drive.

Miss Owens was charged with failing to reduce speed to avoid an accident.

POLICE ALLEGE WOMAN HAD SYRINGE AND LOADED GUN

Stopping a vehicle at Klein and Brown streets at 4:40 p.m. Monday, Venice police charged Willie L. Kennel, 48, St. Louis, with driving with a suspended license. A passenger, Fontella D. Jackson, 23, Brooklyn, was charged with possession of a hypodermic syringe, not having a firearm owner's card and unlawful use of a weapon.

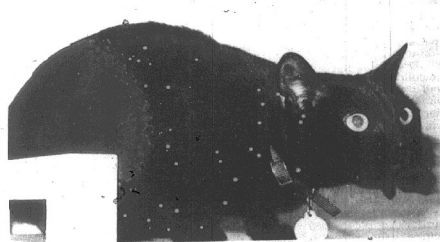

Miss Jackson was alleged to have had a loaded .22 caliber revolver in the waistband of her slacks and a syringe in the pocket of her jacket.

PAINT BOAT, VEHICLE

Police are looking for a vandal who spray painted a 1982 boat and a 1976 Ford Bronco outside the home of Jerry Carpenter, 2913 Sunset Drive. White paint and eggs were used to damage the entire boat and an obscene remark also was painted on the craft, reports said.

AUTO DAMAGED AT DOCK

Frank Baker of Caseyville told police during the weekend that someone damaged the windshield and a side window of his 1979 auto while it was parked on the boat dock at the Venice levee. He was riding in his boat at the time.

ADOPT ME. Zorro, a two-year-old solid black male cat is available for adoption at the APA Shelter, 5000 Old Alton Road. Zorro is declawed, neutered and has all of his shots. Zorro is compatible with dogs but not other cats. For more information, interested persons may call the APA Shelter at 931-7030. Shelter hours are Mondays, 10 a.m. to 1 p.m.; Tuesdays, 4 to 6 p.m.; Wednesdays, 5 to 8 p.m.; Thursdays, 10 a.m. to 2 p.m.; Fridays, 12 to 3 p.m.; Saturdays, 10 a.m. to 1 p.m., and Sundays, noon to 3 p.m. (Press-Record Photo)

TWO WINDOWS BROKEN

Wanda Edwards of 131 Lee Wright Homes, Venice, told police last week that she was lying on her couch in the front room, when she heard a window break upstairs. Upon investigation, she found that her bedroom window was broken. Returning downstairs, she heard another noise and found that her kitchen window also had been broken.

GETS INTO RESTAURANT

A burglar looted the cash register and stole a bag of coins from Brenda's Restaurant, 411 Madison Ave., Madison, it was reported last week. About $325 cash was taken by the intruder, who removed a fan and crawled through an opening to get inside the building.

CAR TIRE TAKEN

Cynthia Crawford of 719 Jefferson St., Madison, told police last week that a tire was stolen from her car. The car was parked in the 700 block of Bissell Street, Venice, at the time of the incident. She said she left her car parked there after it broke down.

TV, STEREO, WATCH TAKEN

Jay Pennabaker of 1042 Third St., Venice, told police early last week that his son's home at 1038 Third St., Venice, was burglarized. Entry was gained either through a hole in the window on the north side of the house or through the front window. Taken was a 19-inch color television, one gold wristwatch and various stereo equipment.

Obituaries

Anna George

Mrs. Anna L. (Mitchell) George, 84, a 65-year resident of the Quad-City area, died at 6:45 a.m. today, Oct. 25, 1984, at St. Elizabeth Medical Center. She resided at The Colonades for four years. She was born in Greenville, Ill., and was a teacher in the Madison School District until she married.

Mrs. George was a member of the First United Presbyterian Church and also the United Presbyterian Women's Association and the Mayflowers Club at the church. She served as president of the Ladies Coterie in 1980 and the Lesche Literary Club from 1982 to 1983.

Her husband, Henry George, died Aug. 8, 1966. Survivors include one son, Gene Roberts, Granite City; two brothers, James Mitchell, Lake Havasu, Ariz., and Albert Mitchell, Mattoon, Ill.; three grandchildren and one great-grandson.

Visitation will be at 4:30 p.m. Sunday at Irwin Chapel for Funerals, 2901 Madison Ave. The Rev. Richard Hunt and the Rev. Charlotte Zachary will conduct funeral services at 10 a.m. Monday, Oct. 29, at the First United Presbyterian Church, 22nd Street and Delmar Avenue, with burial at Sunset Hill Cemetery, Edwardsville Township.

Harry Johnson

Funeral services for former Madison Postmaster Harry R. Johnson, 87, of Galveston, Tex., were held Friday, Oct. 19, at the Moody House Chapel in Galveston, Texas. It was learned here this week. He died at 5:15 p.m. Monday, Oct. 14, 1984, at St. Mary's Hospital, Galveston, after suffering an apparent heart attack.

Born in Vincennes, Ind., Mr. Johnson moved to Madison in 1916 and enlisted in the Navy during World War I. He returned to school after the war and obtained a law degree in 1930 from St. Louis University.

Mr. Johnson was employed by the U. S. Postal Service for 44 years, serving 36 years as a letter carrier and eight years as Madison postmaster. He retired in 1967 and he and his wife, the former Grace E. Womack, who survives, moved to Galveston in 1973.

Mr. Johnson was a charter member of the First United Methodist Church of Madison and served on the boards of the Tri-City American Red Cross Chapter, Salvation Army, Mental Health Services and American Heart Association.

Among the founders of the Travelers Abroad organization, Mr. Johnson and his wife were worldwide travelers and frequently lectured about their experiences.

As a personal project, the couple also collected "love offering" monetary gifts for distribution to different church missions, which they visited during their overseas visits.

For many years, Mr. Johnson was active in the area civil defense program and was Madison civil defense director for many years.

Along with his wife, also surviving are a son, Robert Johnson of Garland, Tex.; three daughters, Mrs. Lorraine Gergeeff and Mrs. Ramona Coon, both of St. Louis County, and Mrs. Jacqueline Jenkins of O'Fallon, Ill.; two sisters, Mrs. Mary Edna Powers of St. Petersburg, Fla., and Mrs. Hazel Atkins of Milligan College, Tenn.; a brother, Frank Johnson of Wheatland, Ind.; 12 grandchildren and nine great-grandchildren.

Mr. Johnson's remains were donated to the Living Bank at a Galveston university. According to a family member, Mrs. Johnson is continuing to make her home at Moody House, 2228 Seawall Blvd., Galveston, Texas 77550.

Roy Spicer

Roy Dale Spicer, 76, of 200 Lenox Ave., Mitchell, died at 4:40 a.m. Wednesday, Oct. 24, 1984, at St. Elizabeth Medical Center. He was ill five weeks and hospitalized for the same period of time.

A local resident for 61 years, Mr. Spicer was born Sept. 10, 1908, in Findlay, Ill. He was of the Protestant faith.

Mr. Spicer retired in 1968 from Granite City Steel, where he was employed 31 years as a high speed operator. He was a member of the Local Order of Moose and the Fraternal Order of Eagles.

He and his wife, the former Viola Lindhorst, who survives, were married Sept. 9, 1939, in St. Louis.

Also surviving are a daughter, Diana Hartzel of Granite City; two grandchildren, Shelle Hartzel of Champaign and Rod Hartzel of Chicago; and a great-grandson, Stephen Hartzel of Chicago.

Friends may call after 4 p.m. today at Bob Thomas Memorial Mortuary, 2205 Pontoon Road, where services will be conducted at 11 a.m. Friday, Oct. 26, the Rev. Linda Shugert officiating. Burial will be at Sunset Hill Cemetery, Edwardsville Township.

Candace Rorie

Candace Lee Rorie II, five years old, of 2015 Sken St., Madison, was pronounced dead at her home at 9:30 a.m. Tuesday, Oct. 23, 1984, by Dick Mizell, Madison County deputy coroner.

She has been ill for two and a half years due to an accident in July 1982, when she fell in a swimming pool and it was initially believed she had drowned. Her mother, Mrs. Candace A. (Kyle) Rorie, said that after her daughter was revived, doctors told her the child had sustained neurological brain damage and could die of the injury.

Born in Granite City, the youngster was a lifelong resident of the Quad-City area. She was of the Pentecostal faith and was enrolled at the Madison County Association's Pre-School Adjustment Center in Wood River.

Other survivors include her father, Clyde Rorie Jr. of Madison; five sisters, Carla Kyle and Juanita Rorie, both of Madison; Theresa Coate, Valerie Coate and Kelly Coate, all of Independence, Mo.; her maternal grandmother, Mrs. Harriet King of Murphysboro, Ill., and her paternal grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Clyde (Sharon) Rorie of Centralia.

The Rev. Gary Hoffman will conduct funeral services at 1 p.m. today, Oct. 25, at Mercer Mortuary Chapel, 1416 Niedringhaus Ave. Burial will be in St. John Cemetery, 2901 Nameoki Road. Memorials are requested for the Madison County Association for Retarded Citizens, 400 S. Main St., Wood River.

Charles White

Charles A. White Sr., 83, of Madison, was pronounced dead at 3:15 p.m. Tuesday, Oct. 23, 1984, at the home of his son, Norvell C. White, 1129 Reynolds St., Madison, by Dick Mizell, Madison County deputy coroner.

Mr. White was under the care of a physician. He was born in Mount Vernon, Ill., and lived in Madison for 65 years.

He was employed as a maintenance man for the Madison School District for 45 years prior to his retirement in 1965. Mr. White was of the Protestant faith.

Preceding him in death was his first wife, Vallette (Beck) White, who died Sept. 24, 1956, and a daughter, Billie Jo White.

Survivors include his second wife, Mrs. Blanche L. (McManaway) White; two other sons, Bertin D. White, O'Fallon, Mo., and Charles A. White Jr., Granite City; a daughter, Mrs. Michael (Deleores) Economy, Madison; a stepdaughter, Mrs. Cliff (Trudi) Biermann, Florissant, Mo.; two brothers, Roy and Edward White, and two sisters, Mrs. Vincent (Jeanette) Santschi and Mrs. Kenneth (Foster) Liles, all of Festus, Mo.; 11 grandchildren and nine great-grandchildren.

Visitation will begin at 4 p.m. today at Lahey-Sedlack Funeral Home, 501 Madison Ave., Madison, where the Rev. Charlotte Zachary will conduct funeral services at 11 a.m. Friday, Oct. 26. Burial will be in Sunset Hill Cemetery, Edwardsville Township. Memorials are requested for Home Health Care.

MEMORIAL FOR Captain Keith Joseph Lucas

Parting With A Child

LISTEN, WORLD!

God, all night long I miss him.

Lying half asleep — my conscious memory lost.

I wonder if he tossed the blankets off.

Or if the rain is blowing on his pill.

Or if he's ill — my baby.

And often waking, I find myself beside his bed.

Stooping to kiss the little tousled head that is no longer there.

I stand and stare with streaming eyes.

At that smooth pillow and unruffled spread.

Remembering slowly, that my son is dead.

All day long I listen for his step.

His whistle and his sweet, uncertain song.

Mayfield will replace Victor

Koenig, who announced his retirement at the last meeting, Koenig's last day as director is Oct. 31.

Mayfield, 59, has been a resident of Granite City since 1946. Before moving here, he served with the Navy in World War II and the Army in the Korean war.

In 1959, Mayfield became a member of the auxiliary police of the city defense.

He moved up through the ranks and became captain in charge of the auxiliary.

He served in that capacity until 1969, when he was appointed assistant director of civil defense for the city.

Mayfield has taken courses to expand his knowledge of emergency and disaster services, including radiological monitoring for instructors, radiological defense, and civil defense career development phases I-4.

Since the civil defense director's job is part-time, Mayfield said he will continue working at his present job as a steel pumper in the basic oxygen furnace department at Granite City Steel.

He and his wife, Betty Ann, live at 2840 Fortune Drive. They have two children—Eddie Joe Henson and Patricia Ann Mayfield.

2 men wearing pig masks rob McKinley toll booths

Two men wearing pig masks and carrying 44 caliber pistols robbed the toll booths at the McKinley Bridge toll plaza near Main Street, Venice, at 6:50 p.m. Wednesday.

George Wilson and Lorna Edwards, both toll collectors, told police that an undetermined amount of cash had been taken in the robbery.

One of the men approached Mrs. Edwards, who was working in the east toll booth, with his weapon drawn and took the money from her booth. He then got into a medium-sized green vehicle with another man and they drove around to Wilson's booth, robbing him also.

The men left heading west across the bridge.

Venice police notified the fifth district of the St. Louis Police Department. Police searched the area for the vehicles but to no avail.

Mrs. Edwards was upset by the incident but neither she nor Wilson was injured.

New sewer break declared emergency

Granite City aldermen declared an emergency situation Tuesday night after Superintendent of Streets Mac Wile informed them of a new sewer break.

The break, at 3224 Newell Drive, is an emergency because a utility pole is positioned only three feet from the manhole. Wile said an engineer looked at it and said, "If something isn't done soon, the pole will go into the break."

Aldermen allocated up to $30,000 for the repair but City Attorney John Papa said if costs go higher the city possible could provide more funds.

Alderman Sharon Perjak asked if the repairs would be covered under community development funds.

Papa said the time involved in applying for such advance funds would not be practical in this instance. He added that the city could submit a bill for the repair work to the development office for possible reimbursement at a later time.

Funeral rites conducted for Frank Putnick, 68

A funeral Mass took place at Christ Prince of Peace Church, 415 Weidman Road, Manchester, Mo., Monday, Oct. 22, for Frank O. Putnick, 68, Ballwin, Mo., formerly of Granite City.

Mr. Putnick, a former vice president and co-founder of Diversified Metals Corp., died Thursday, Oct. 18, 1984, at his home after a brief illness.

He also was a retired vice president for sales at Valley Heat Treat Co., Valley Park, and was director of purchasing for Nesco Inc., Airtex Products Inc. and Magic Chef Co.

A member of several professional organizations, Mr. Putnick also held membership in the American Foundrymen's Society and the American Society of Metals.

Survivors include his wife, Mrs. Sally M. Putnick; two daughters, Linda Carapella of St. Louis and Debbie Smith of California; three brothers, Steve Putnick of Granite City, Walter Putnick of Springfield, Ill., and Frank Putnick of San Diego, Calif., and two grandchildren.

Burial was at Calvary Cemetery, Edwardsville Township.

Mrs. Rose Miller dies this week at her home

Mrs. Rose Miller, 81, Washington Park, died Sunday, Oct. 21, 1984, at her home. She was a retired employee of the Service Paper Co. of St. Louis and a member of the Altar Sodality of St. Martin of Tours Church, Washington Park.

She is survived by her husband, Monroe E. Miller; two sisters, Mrs. Cleo White of Granite City and Mrs. Ellen Kolb of Fairview Heights; and nieces, nephews and cousins.

The funeral was at 1 p.m. Wednesday, Oct. 24, at St. Martin Church, with burial at Mount Carmel Cemetery.

Funeral services conducted for Mrs. Jo Kendall, 83

Funeral services for Mrs. Jo (Ridge) Kendall, 83, formerly of Madison, were conducted at 10 a.m. today, Oct. 25, at Mercer Mortuary, 1416 Niedringhaus Ave.

Mrs. Kendall died at 9:40 p.m. Sunday, Oct. 21, 1984, at The Colonades Nursing Home. She had been ill for five years.

Visitation took place at the funeral home yesterday evening, and Eastern Star services were conducted.

TAKEN TO HOSPITAL

Tammy G. Bush, 22, of 2019 Hildebrand Ave., Madison, suffered an injury when the auto she was driving struck a utility pole at 12th Street and McCambridge Avenue, Madison, during the weekend. She was taken by Madison Fire Department ambulance service to St. Elizabeth Medical Center for treatment.

Tonight Kickin' Warriors meet Tigers in regional finale

Sectional Begins Saturday

By ALAN L. GERSTENECKER
Sports Editor
of the Press-Record

GRANITE CITY — When Granite City High School's varsity soccer team takes on Edwardsville tonight for the regional championship both teams will be vastly different from the first time they met earlier this season.

In that first game, which was Sept. 18 at Southern Illinois University's Cougar Field, the Warriors exploded for three fourth-quarter goals to win the game 4-0.

But, things may be a little different this time around as Warrior coach Gene Baker pointed out Tuesday afternoon.

"THEY'VE got (Tiger goalie P.J.) Riley back. He didn't play in that first game. And (Michael) Ham and (Paul) Edmonds will also be back," Baker said. "I think they're a much improved team from last year. It should be a good game."

The Tigers enter tonight's game with their best record ever, 10-7-3. The Warriors, meanwhile, enter the game with a three-game win streak and are currently 12-4-3.

The Warriors are a different team this go around with the Tigers for an obvious reason. The last time the two teams met, the Warriors had the services of Dennis Gaudreault, their most lethal offensive weapon. It was in that last game with the Tigers that Gaudreault began his scoring spree, scoring twice for the Warriors.

"I THINK the kids are doing a nice job in practice, they're coming," Baker said. "Certainly, we'd be better with Gaudreault in there, but we're coming along."

During the waning weeks of regular-season action, Baker said his team lacked maturity. The presence of mind on the field, Baker hasn't changed his assessment of the Warriors since then, but he's working on an alternative plan, one that he hopes will compensate that lack of maturity.

"We've been working them a little harder this and last week as we prepare for each game. We're hoping what they lack in one area can be compensated with another strength, particularly conditioning," Baker said.

LAST WEEK, after their final game with Belleville East, the Warriors began a rigorous series of practices, a series which included 15 hours of practice in the five days before their matchup with Metro-East Lutheran on Monday.

Since Monday, the Warriors have continued their lengthy practices, including a session Monday night following the 6-0 victory over the MELH Knights.

"Our goal is to get in another seven hours of practice before we meet Edwardsville," Baker said Tuesday. "The short practice after Monday's game was not punishment. Everyone has really been receptive to the longer practices. All the boys really great."

NOW ARE the Warriors responding to the longer practices?

"We're getting there," Scott Grote said Tuesday. "We'll be ready."

The Warriors play at 7 p.m. at the Gauntlet.

In the three other area regionals which will funnel through the Granite City High Sectional Tournament, championship games are also scheduled for today.

In Regional A, the region to the south of Granite City, top-seeded Belleville East will square off against its sister school Belleville West at 4 p.m. today at the Belleville Area College's soccer field.

BELLEVILLE East earned its birth into Thursday's championship game by posting a 3-2 victory over fourth-seeded Waterloo-Gibault on Monday.

Second-seeded Belleville West bettered cross-town rival Belleville Alt-Hoff Monday in an overtime matchup that eventually came to penalty kicks to earn its place in today's championship game.

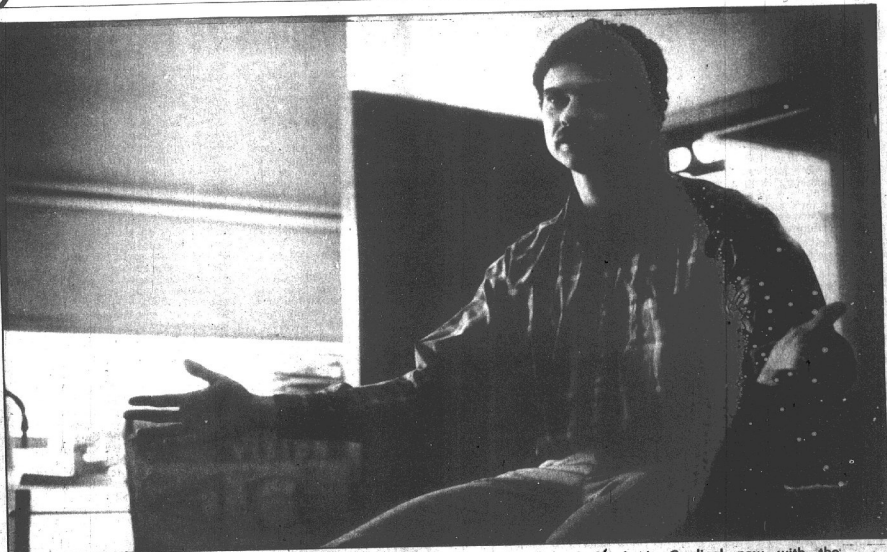

In first-round action in Regional A held on Saturday, third-seeded Alton turned back sixth-seeded Carbondale while Waterloo-Gibault defeated fifth-seeded Waterloo High.

IN REGIONAL B, the regional east of Granite City, top-seeded Collinsville narrowly escaped an upset by fourth-seeded Triad Monday as the Kahoks went on to win 5-3 in overtime. Tony Ellis scored both overtime goals — four in all — enroute to Collinsville's victory.

In the other Regional B semi-final game Monday, third-seeded O'Fallon managed an overtime 2-1 victory over second-seeded Highland St. Paul to set the stage for tonight's regional championship game between the Kahoks and the Panthers.

Other first-round games in that regional included a 4-3 O'Fallon victory over Mascoutah on Saturday and a 2-1 Triad victory over Lebanon. Mascoutah was seeded sixth, while Lebanon was the fifth seed.

IN THE fourth and final region, Region D to the north which funnels through the Granite City High Sectional Tournament, top-seeded Alton and third-seeded Alton-Marquette will battle it out tonight at 7 for that

FOR THE LORD. John Denny, the National Baseball League's Cy Young winner in 1983, was the special guest speaker at Madison High School's Fellowship of Christian Athletes meeting Wednesday afternoon at the high school.

Denny, the former St. Louis Cardinal now with the Philadelphia Phillies, said God was instrumental in helping him achieve his 19-6 performance in 1983. The right-hander now makes his home in St. Louis.

In Breese Regional Red Devilettes, Trojanettes are first-round casualties

By JAMES BLASINGAME
of the Press-Record

BREESE — The Venice and Madison High Schools' volleyball teams were eliminated from post-season play this week. Both squads lost their opening game in the Breese Regional of the Class A Illinois High School Association State Volleyball Tournament.

On Tuesday night Venice's Red Devilettes, seeded fifth in the regional tourney, took on their Illinois Gateway Conference rival, St. Paul of Highland.

St. Paul, the tourney's fourth seed, defeated Venice 15-9, 15-5, 15-5 and 17-15.

IN GAME one, Cassandra White served the Red Devilettes to a 3-0 lead, but St. Paul came back to tie the score at six apiece.

With the score 9-9 in Venice's favor, St. Paul's Jodie Fischer began serving. Unfortunately for the Red Devilettes, Fischer didn't stop serving until Venice coach Clint Harris called a timeout. The Vikings led 12-9.

The pause didn't bother Fischer though, as her low, line-drive serves, along with some outstanding net play by Kay Landmann, wrapped up the first game for St. Paul 15-9.

RED DEVILLETTE Tina White served them up, and Venice's Chanté Bradley slammed them down, as Venice went from a 3-0 deadlock to an 11-3 lead.

Elaine Calhoun served the next three Venice points, and Cassandra White backfisted the ball over the net for the game winner. The 15-4 victory had tied the contest for Venice at one game each.

In the third game, the Red Devilettes once again jumped out to a 3-0 lead. But St. Paul's Chandra Ammann had served her team back in front at 9-3, before a spike by Bradley returned the ball to Venice.

AFTER TWO sideouts, the Red Devilettes trailed 12-5. Ammann continued serving well in the fourth game. Her hard service, along with fine plays by Landmann, Dee Dee Moenster, and Peggy Riffel built a 10-0 lead for the Vikings.

But Venice battled back.

When Rosetta Harmon began serving, the Red Devilettes picked up momentum. From a 12-3 deficit, Venice, behind some good net play and serving by Wendy King, cut the St. Paul lead to 12-8.

ROSETTA Harmon hammered the ball into the Viking court to tie the score at 12, and Venice took the lead on a spike by Bradley at 13-12.

But Liz Kuts served the Vikings back in front at 15-14, and Julie Fischer served the final points for St. Paul. The Vikings won 17-15.

"We played hard, we just didn't get the breaks," Harris said afterward.

Venice emerged as conference champions this season, finishing the year with a 7-1 record.

"I'm pretty satisfied with this season," said Harris. "It's my first year coaching volleyball, and this was kind of an adjusting season, me adjusting to the girls. But I'm pretty satisfied."

ON WEDNESDAY night the Madison Trojanettes took to the court against the tourney's No. 2 seed, Mater Dei.

It was never a contest. Mater Dei's Knights pounded Madison 15-0, 15-5, and 15-4.

The Trojanettes scrapped, they all did. Madison got some good net play from Angela Riley and Kim Stanley, but Mater Dei, at 24-2, is in another league.

The high point of the evening for the Trojanettes came in the third game, when Madison led 3-2 and 4-3. But the Knights scored the next 12 points to win 15-4.

DESPITE the loss, Madison coach Carol Cole and the Trojanettes, were pleased with their performance.

"We played better tonight than we have all year, but you couldn't really see it against a team like Mater Dei," Cole said. "We've only got four or five kids that have ever played before, and it took us all season to do something right."

"She's one of the best players in the area," said Goldthree. "We've been in two tournaments and she's been on the first team all-tournament team both times."

GOLDBREEZE was also very complimentary of his setters. Although the East Side coach felt that hitting was his team's strongest suit, he said his setters ran a close second.

"Our team is not tall so the ball has to be set right or we can't hit. If the setters don't set, you can't hit. When they're off, we're off," said Goldthree of his team's setters.

"They really played tonight. They put up some good sets."

Those good sets became made-a-difference in the second game as the Flyerettes trounced the Warriors. Led by Green and Cheryl Boone, East Side held the Warriors scoreless while putting the game away.

THE WARRIORS made their last showing of the evening in the first game. Despite leading by as much as 14-9, the Warriors were unable to hold on and secure the victory.

After a missed serve by Granite City, two straight blocks by Flyerette, Tamila Jones appeared to be what shifted the momentum back

In Soccer Regional Warriors bury Knights 6-0

By JOE THOMPSON
of the Press-Record

GRANITE CITY — Ed Sievers, coach of the Metro-East Lutheran High soccer team, sat on a bench with shoulders slumped forward.

His Knights had just been blown away by the Granite City High Warriors, 6-0, in a semi-final match of the Granite City Regional Monday night at the Gauntlet.

Analyzing the action, Sievers talked about the weaknesses of his squad, which saw its season ended at 8-1-1.

"Lack of skill, lack of size, lack of speed at times," Sievers said.

QUALIFIERS. Sievers probably would agree, is what the Warriors, displayed in abundant proportions, only besting a team of their high stature.

In earning the right to play Edwardsville for the Regional title tonight at the Gauntlet, the Warriors made use of another of their assorted weapons against Metro-East, described as "just a tiny school" by Sievers.

Wardrobe. The Warriors dressed to kill. At halftime to be exact. That's when the Warriors pulled off the white tops of the uniforms they played the first half in, and put on red tops.

THE WHITE tops were closely similar in color to the uniforms worn by Knight players, which consisted of light gray shirts and green pants.

Sievers had neglected to inform the Warriors that the tops of the uniforms his players would be wearing were gray.

The result was that, during the first half, the field consisted of 22 players dressed somewhat alike: a condition left open the possibility for confusion.

While Sievers said he didn't think the uniform switch had any impact on the outcome, it could be pointed out that the Warriors had a very difficult time in the first half.

IN FACT, it got terrifically scary for the Warriors when, late in the first quarter and the score 0-0, the Knights' Peter Wentzel took a pass which left him with a clean break on the Granite City field. The Knights' hopes for a might upset increased dramatically as Wentzel, one of his teams' deadliest shot-makers, zeroed in on Warrior netminder Terry Duko.

Wentzel, however, sent his shot just wide.

"I thought we had a goal," Sievers said. "I was shocked as can be when he missed it."

Had the ball went in, well, who knows?

ONE THING was certain. Had the ball gone in, it would have been difficult to award an assist.

"I thought we passed the ball to him (Wentzel)," complained Warrior coach Gene Baker, pointing to the similarity in the uniforms.

A case could be made that the Warriors' Brett Scrum had no difficulties picking out who played for which team. Then, however, you might say his sight was set on the net, which knows only one color.

Scrum lessened much of the suspense by scoring the Warriors only two goals of the first half.

SCORING's first tally came with 7:31 left to play in the second quarter. He scored on an assist by Mike Houston, who fed a pass to Scott Grote, whose blistering shot was turned away. Scrum scored again with just under two minutes left in the half. Todd Adamits headed a shot against the top of the crossbar off a throw in by Brent Cook. Scrum kicked in the loose ball.

Then came the uniform switch, making the Warriors "more visible," pointed out Baker. While the red tops didn't have an embellishment on the front, the Warriors played as if there was one. They scored four goals within a 10-minute span in the third quarter, restoring their supremacy.

GOAL GOOLE scored twice, heading in both goals off corner kicks from Scott Blason. Frankie Soelner scored after taking a cross from Dave DeRousse, with Blason triggering the score on an indirect free kick. Derek River scored the fourth goal after taking a pass from Matt MacLaughlin. The scores came fast and furious. Said Baker of the Warriors' performance, which yielded two other goals (by Merz and Doug Partney) that were disallowed by the officials, "I thought they played admirably."

As it turned out, in white and red.

EstL Wins Regional Flyerettes end Warriors' season

By PAULA WISE
of the Press-Record

GRANITE CITY — For the second consecutive year the East St. Louis Flyerettes entered the Granite City volleyball Regional as the top-seeded team.

Game two was all Venice. The Warriors were pitted against cross-town rival East St. Louis Lincoln in the tournament final on Tuesday.

And, for the second straight year the Flyerettes emerged as regional champions.

With an easy three-game, 15-6, 15-6, 15-9, victory over Lincoln, East Side will advance to sectional play next week.

THE FLYERETTES reached the tournament final by defeating Granite City on Tuesday 15-6, 15-0, 16-14. Lincoln defeated second-seeded Cahokia to earn their berth in the final.

In Tuesday night's matchup between the Warriors and the Flyerettes things did not turn out as the Warriors had hoped.

"We had four seniors playing in their last game. They were very disappointed," said Warrior coach Wilma Schulze. "They had their hopes up, a big upset would have been a nice way to end the season. I don't think they were just dreaming either. I think it was a real possibility."

THE FOUR seniors to which Coach Schulze was referring are Debbie Brandt, Tammy Jones, Michelle Morgan and Anne Puhse.

Cumulative of his setters. Although the East Side coach felt that hitting was his team's strongest suit, he said his setters ran a close second.

"Our team is not tall so the ball has to be set right or we can't hit. If the setters don't set, you can't hit. When they're off, we're off," said Goldthree of his team's setters.

"They really played tonight. They put up some good sets."

Happy Warriors

No state qualifier, but Harmon is happy

ALTON — Although Granite City High School's tennis team failed to advance anyone from the Alton Sectional to this weekend's state tennis tournament in Mt. Prospect, Warrior coach Dick Harmon is calling this season and the sectional tournament a success.

"I'm really proud of the girls," Harmon said. "It would have been nice to send someone to state, but it's not the end of the world because we didn't. We finished the season with a winning record, a 7-6 record, and that's what counts."

In his second year as the Warrior coach, Harmon was obviously quite pleased with his season-ending record.

"This is the best they've done in some time. I've only been their coach for two years now, but I don't think they've finished this well for some time, North, South or Granite City High."

As grand as the Warriors finish was this season, Harmon thought it could have even been better.

"We finished 7-6, but it could have even been better, than that. It could've been 10-6," Harmon said, citing three matches in which the Warriors were unable to reschedule — matches against Edwardsville, Wood River and Triad.

"I know what kind of team we've got and I had a pretty good idea what kind of teams they had. If we'd have played I think we could've won all three of them."

In the Alton Sectional Tournament, which began Friday, the Warriors had four entries — two singles players and a pair of doubles teams.

In one singles, the Warriors' representative was Marsha Williams. On Friday, Williams, who was the sixth seed in the tourney, easily defeated Kris Macari of Collinsville 6-0, 6-1.

In the second round, Williams found competition much stiffer as she advanced to meet Alton's Beth Ingram, the tournament's No. 3 seed.

INGRAM used a combination of fine serves and baseline volleys to turn back the Warrior junior in straight sets of 6-0, 6-3.

In second singles, Jill Werth made winning look easy as she sent Michelle Kapp of Greenville down in straight zero sets, 6-0, 6-0. But like her teammate, Williams, Werth found competition in the second pretty stiff.

Werth's second round matchup was none other than the tourney's top seed, Meredith Heideman of Highland. Heideman sent the Warrior senior down in straight sets of 6-2, 6-2.

"I WAS real pleased with both Marsha and Jill," Harmon said. "Neither were out last year, so you can imagine the pleasant surprise I had when I discovered their talent. They added quite a bit of depth to our team this year."

Werth will graduate, but Williams, a junior, will have the inside edge on first singles next year, Harmon said.

In doubles action, Granite City's Maria Parra and Dawn Schwartz picked up a first-round bye and then came back in the second round to defeat Jerseyville's first duo 6-0, 6-1.

THE SIXTH seeded Warriors, like their teammates Williams and Werth, found competition tougher in their second match as they too suffered defeat.

On Monday, the Warrior duo, dropped a three-set match to Edwardsville's Kim Dudak and Pam Scherr 3-6, 7-5, 6-1 to fall from competition.

"They won their first game," explained Harmon. "But they just couldn't get over the hump."

After winning the first set, the Warriors' game changed. Their lobs began falling short and they began "playing the lines," which enabled the Edwardsville pair to comeback.

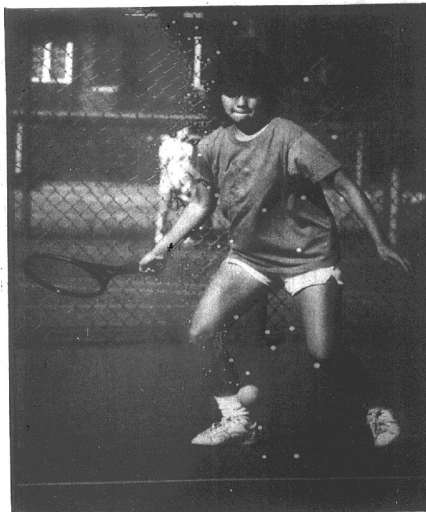

BETH BUES and Angela Pinkston, the Warriors' other doubles pair had similar success in the first round, but fell in the second round. After defeating Collinsville 6-4, 6-1, the pair met the tournament's first seeded doubles team, Highland's Amy Johnston and Sherry White. The local girls, despite several close matches, lost 6-2, 6-3.

"There were 13 schools in the tournament and I've got to say that we had as many in the quarterfinals as anyone," Harmon said. "We had two groups in the quarterfinals and I'm pretty pleased with that."

ASSESSING his team, Harmon said there were many successes during the season, citing particularly the play of Parra and Schwartz and Robyn Morlen and Linda Briner.

"It was a good season for everyone. Maria and Dawn played well, and Robyn and Linda did quite well too. They're (Morlen and Briner) one of the best third doubles teams in the area."

The Warriors missed qualifying an entry for this weekend's state tournament by a single place. Only first through fourth places advance to the state tournament.

FIRST DOUBLES. Maria Parra, was one of six Warriors to compete in the Alton Sectional Tennis Tournament last Friday and Monday. Parra, who with teammate Dawn Schwartz, represented GCHS in doubles action. The Warriors failed to qualify an entry for this weekend's state tournament, but they did finish the season with a winning record.

Banquet to honor Mendoza

When it comes to soccer in Granite City, there are few names which carry more weight than that of Ruben Mendoza.

Earlier this month, Mendoza was honored for his contributions to soccer by the St. Louis Soccer Club as he was inducted into its prestigious Hall of Fame.

Well, Mendoza has returned home and the honors will follow him.

Scheduled for Saturday, Oct. 27, at 7 p.m., the Mexican Honorary Commission, a local organization which promotes amateur athletics, will honor their own as they host a banquet for Mendoza.

To be held at the MHC Hall located at 1801 Spruce St., the banquet is a tribute to Mendoza for his years of service to soccer and amateur athletics.

Tickets for the banquet, which includes dinner, drinks and entertainment, are $10 each and may be purchased at the MHC Hall or by calling either John Valencia at 797-6920 after 5 p.m. or Bob Galvin at 931-0372.

Among the dignitaries who will attend the banquet are Granite City's Mayor Paul Schuler, Sen. Sam Vadalbene, (D-Edwardsville) and Rep. Sam Wolf (D-Granite City).

In JuCo Soccer Meramec shuts out Stars, 3-0

GRANITE CITY — The opportunities were there, but the breaks weren't.

That's the way Granite City Center soccer coach Larry Petri described his team's 3-0 loss Tuesday to Meramec Community College. Petri praised the performance of his Stars, despite the shutout.

"We played a lot better for longer periods of time," said Petri. "We haven't put two good halves back to back in a while. Today was the closest we've come to doing that."

Meramec carried a 1-0 lead over the Stars at half. Petri said his only criticism he made to his squad during halftime was about passing.

"THE FIRST half our penetration pass wasn't connecting," said Petri. "It was either a fault in technique or, just a miss. It broke down the attack."

"In the second half we played extremely well. We had better opportunities to score, but we didn't get the breaks. On one play, one of their defenders kicked it off the goal line."

The inability to put points on the board has hurt the Stars the majority of the season, said Petri.

"We haven't had anybody who has been a consistent scorer for us," he said. "That's really what is costing us. We've had opportunities, but the finished product isn't there."

WITH THE loss to Meramec, GCC dropped to 5-10. Petri said his players showed enthusiasm Tuesday, despite the poor record and the injuries to several players. Meramec had beaten GCC earlier this season.

"Even though they got three goals, they weren't the prettiest in the world," said Petri. "But they still count. If we would have had a break here or a break there, we would have been in the game."

"Losing isn't fun for anybody. It seems we've been fighting adversity all year. Anything that could go wrong seems to have this year."

"BUT THEIR attitudes were excellent today. That's the way we have to keep it for tournament time."

The Stars next contest is set for 3 p.m. today at GCC against Forest Park Community College. The Stars took a 7-0 loss Sept. 18 to the Highlanders.

"This is going to be a different game," promised Petri. "If we have the same effort as we did today (Tuesday), it'll be a good contest."

Major Leaguers Day Oct. 26

Baseball fans from the Metro-East area will get perhaps the best chance ever to honor their favorite Major League Stars of the past this Friday, Oct. 26, during Metro-East Major Leaguers' Day.

Slated for the Belle-Clair Fairgrounds' Exposition Hall, the event is expected to attract more than 40 baseball greats including Granite City's Dal Maxvill and Madison's Champ Summers.

A buffet-style banquet, the event will be riddled with various media stars including the Globe-Democrat's and KMOX Radio's Bob Burnes, Mike Shannon, and Al Barlick and Jim Bolen.

In all, it's an event to honor the Metro-East athletes who've contributed to professional baseball and area coaches who've done the same.

Among the coaches to be honored are Whitey Herzog, formerly of New Athens, Red Schoendienst of Germantown, and Hank Bauer of East St. Louis.

Tickets for the event are $20 and may be obtained by calling Dan Underwood at 235-0438.

Proceeds from the event benefit the Special Olympics for the Handicapped.

At Tri-City Winged Sprints are final show

GRANITE CITY — Tri-City Speedway will close its 1984 racing season this Saturday, Oct. 27 with an open competition winged Sprint Car race. Many of the World-Outlaws regulars are expected to be on hand for this event.

These sprint cars race with wings atop their cars and have from 350 C.I. to 450 C.I. engines, which will develop 500-to-600 horsepower.

The winner of the 30-lap feature event on the one-half mile smooth dirt track will take home $1,200, plus his heat race winnings. Also on hand will be the Sportsman's cars. These guys put on some kind of a show as they wheel and broadcast their Mustangs, Monte Carlos, Thunderbirds, Buick Rivieras and just about any other kind of automobile.

Racing will begin at 7:30 p.m. with the gates to open at 5 p.m. In case of a rain-out the rain date has been set for Sunday, Oct. 28th. Gates will open noon with races getting underway at 2 p.m.

Injury Shuffles Stars

GCC's spikers fall to Flo Valley

GRANITE CITY — Granite City Center volleyball coach and her team were reminded just how important it is to have a complete team Monday night as the Stars fell to Florissant Valley 15-2, 15-3, 15-10.

Playing without the services of Jamie Essenpreis, GCC's standout hitter who sprained an ankle on the Oct. 13 game with Mineral Area, the reshuffled Stars spent the night playing out of position.

"That's really the reason we lost," explained Coach Briggs. "We really played well, and by the time the match was over we were pretty familiar with our positions, but..." Coach Briggs paused. "The match was over."

With Essenpreis out of the match, Briggs replaced the hitter with Kely Anderson and Veronica Williams. Williams is normally a setter and Anderson sees most of her action as a spiker.

"I can't complain about the game," Briggs said. "Both Kely and Veronica played well as did Leticia Miller and Aleisa Jones. Leticia is a super spiker and Aleisa is really quick on the net."

Coach Briggs said had the Stars been able to pass better and been playing out of position because of the injury to Essenpreis, the game would have been a lot closer.

Indeed, The Stars did consistently close Florissant Valley's margin of victory as the games progressed — from 13 to five points in the final game. Essenpreis is expected to return to action later this week, Briggs hopes, just in time for the Stars' Friday rematch with Florissant Valley. Action begins at 6 p.m.

Kristoff All-Stars coach

EDWARDSVILLE — Larry Kristoff, who last year led the wrestling Cougars of Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville to the NCAA Division II national championship, has been selected by the National Wrestling Coaches Association to coach the West squad in the 19th Annual East-West All-Star match. Kristoff, a former two-time Olympic wrestler and the 1983-84 NCAA-II coach of the year, will join the University of Missouri's Bob Kopnisky on the sidelines for the West team Feb. 4, at Utah State University in Logan, Utah.

MAC hoop registration

The Mitchell Athletic Club has slated three dates for persons wishing to register for its winter youth basketball league. The first was Tuesday, Oct. 16, from 6 to 8 p.m., and the second was the following Tuesday, Oct. 23, at the Mitchell Elementary School gymnasium. The final date for registering is this Tuesday, Oct. 30. The time for the final registration is also from 6 to 8 p.m.

According to a MAC spokesman, registration is for boys and girls grades three through six. Entry fee is $12 which includes a T shirt with number and MAC logo.

Practices for league play which begins in December, are Thursdays and Fridays. Actual competition will be Mondays and Tuesdays.

Persons seeking further information about the league may contact Myron Merz at 931-1218.

Physical exams given Monday

Physical examinations for those athletes wishing to participate in winter sports at Granite City High School should attend a physical examination session at the high school this weekend.

According to Greg Patton, Granite City High School's athletic director, a doctor will be administering physicals for both girls and boys this Monday, Oct. 29, in Memorial Gymnasium. According to Patton, boys' exams will begin at 5 p.m. while the session for girls will begin half an hour later, at 5:30 p.m.

Cost of the physicals is $5.

Meeting in Collinsville

DOC proposes deer permit changes

SPRINGFIELD — Public information meetings focusing on proposed changes in the firearm deer permit system will be held this Monday in Collinsville and later in Marion, according to T. Miller, wildlife administrator with the Department of Conservation's Division of Fish and Wildlife.

Miller said the proposed deer harvest strategy is in response to the growing numbers of hunters who fail to receive a firearm deer permit under the present system. The proposal would preserve the lottery system for an either-sex permit, but provide hunters with the option of applying for an antlered, or bucks only, permit.

"There will be no limit on the number of antlered permits issued," he said. "It will mean, however, that the number of either-sex permits available in the lottery will be reduced."

although the exact reduction is yet to be determined.

"We can offer the bucks only option along with the present lottery approach for either-sex permits without damaging the resource while simultaneously providing more sportsmen with the opportunity to hunt," Miller said.

If adopted, the new dual system would become effective for the fall 1985 season. Details of the plan will be discussed and questions answered during informational meetings which will run from 7 until 10 p.m. at both of the following locations:

—Monday, Oct. 29, Collinsville Hilton, 1000 Eastport Plaza Dr., Collinsville.

—Tuesday, Oct. 30, Holiday Inn, Ill. Rt. 13 and Interstate and 57, Marion. For further information, persons should contact: Department of Conservation, Division of Fish and Wildlife, Attn: T. Miller, 524 S. Second St., Springfield, IL 62706 or phone (217) 782-6384.

GRANITE CITY CENTER ATHLETE of the WEEK

LETITIA MILLER

Letitia was selected as the Granite City Center Athlete of the Week for October 15-22. Letitia was commended for excellent spiking and blocking in the Stars' losing effort against Flo Valley.

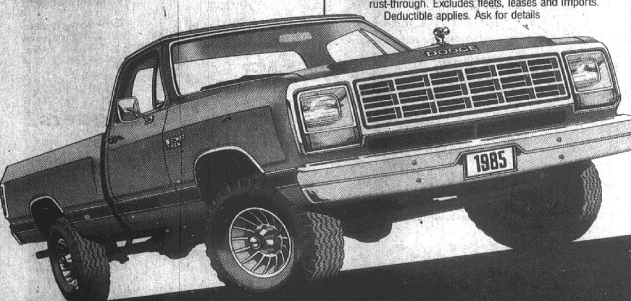

Coach Briggs noted, "Letitia has been one of our strongest attackers all year. She has also been a consistently good server throughout the year. She has been a major factor in our improved record over last year."

Letitia is a 1984 graduate of Venice High School.

SIU at Edwardsville

"MANAGING EFFECTIVE MEETINGS" will be the topic of a free workshop Tuesday, Oct. 30, at Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville. Ed Harrack, a professor of management studies, will serve as facilitator. His discussion will focus on the fundamentals of meeting management: preparation, facilitation and follow-up activities. The workshop is scheduled from 1:30 to 3 p.m. in the Dogwood Room of the University Center.

THE 17-PIECE SOUTHERN Illinois University at Edwardsville Dance Band will be featured at a dinner dance on Sunday evening, Oct. 28, from 6 to 10 p.m. in the University Club Restaurant. Dinner will be served at 6 p.m., with dancing to follow. Reservations at $20 per couple should be made by calling Darlene Rogers at 1-692-3900. The event is sponsored by the SIUE department of music to benefit the music scholarship fund.

Belleville Area College

A SEMINAR ON COMPUTER SOFTWARE sponsored by Belleville Area College's Business Assistance Center, will meet from 9 a.m. to 1 p.m. Saturday, Oct. 27, in room 2162 at the college's main campus, 2500 Carlyle Road, Belleville.

The seminar will focus on choosing the right programs for each person's needs. Robert Hoeke, the guest speaker, is the chairman of the Management Systems and Sciences faculty in the School of Business at Southern Illinois University in Edwardsville. The $10 fee for the seminar includes materials, coffee and rolls.

Other area colleges

KARLA VANERSKY of Pontoon Beach is one of 29 University of Missouri at Rolla students, to compete for the title of 1984 Homecoming queen. Homecoming is set for Oct. 26 and 27 at the university. The winner is chosen after interviews and a campus-wide election is held. Miss Vanersky, a freshman majoring in chemical engineering, is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Vanersky, 41 Iris Ave.

JACKLYN BOGOSIAN of 2570 State St., has received a bachelor of science degree from Illinois State University. Miss Bogosian is one of 773 students who completed requirements for their degrees during the 1984 summer session.

TWO GRANITE CITY RESIDENTS have enrolled at Illinois Wesleyan University, Bloomington, Ill., this fall. They are Neil Thomas Schroeder of 1300 27th St., and David L. Warfield of 2555 Westmoreland Dr. Both students are enrolled in the university's College of Liberal Arts.

Hotline to answer college questions

The Illinois Association of College Admission Counselors (IACAC) will have a toll-free Hotline telephone number available to all persons from 10:00 a.m. to 6:00 p.m. on Saturday, Oct. 27, and Sunday, Oct. 28.

Persons in Illinois may phone toll-free to 1-800-942-7404 with their questions about college selection, admission, testing and financial aid. The most up-to-date information regarding application deadlines, college majors and entrance requirements will be available.

THE HOTLINE phones will be staffed by members of IACAC, a non-profit organization of high school and college admission counselors, and representatives from the American College Testing Program, the College Entrance Examination Board, the Illinois State Scholarship Commission and financial aid officers.

CANNABIS CHARGE FILED

Stephen Williams, 17, of 2404 Missouri Ave. was charged with possession of cannabis at Granite City High School at 11 a.m. Monday.

SIUE musical staged this weekend

The Unity Ensemble production of "I Got the Music in Me" will be staged Friday through Sunday, Oct. 26 to 28 at East St. Louis Senior High School, 4901 State St.

"I Got the Music in Me," a tribute to the black entertainer in song, dance and drama, represents contributions made by Duke Ellington, Ella Fitzgerald, The Supremes, Gladys Knight and The Pips, the Miracles, Prince and others.

ALL PERFORMANCES will start at 8 p.m. Tickets are $4 for adults and $1.50 for children under 12.

The production is a presentation of the Katherine Dunham Center for the Performing Arts (KDCA) at the East St. Louis Campus of Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville. The show will soon begin a national tour, according to Ralph Greene, production director and coordinator of KDCA.

For tickets and more information, interested persons may call 271-3000 extension 64.

New Salem Baptist to hear guest speaker

The New Salem Missionary Baptist Church, 1349 Klein St., Venice, will host a "prowomens day" program at 3:30 p.m. Sunday, Oct. 28, the Rev. John H. Williams announces.

Guest speaker for the day will be Shafac Robinson, 14-year old son of the Rev. Cleopha Robinson, pastor of the Bethlehem Missionary Baptist Church of St. Louis, the host minister added.

Program chairman for the special event is Frizall Walker.

Steelworkers sponsor labor history program

United Steelworkers Local 67 is sponsoring a presentation entitled "Labor History Rediscovered" at 7 p.m. Friday, Oct. 26, at the Local 67 Hall, 2534 E. 25th St.

The guest speaker will be William Adelman, coordinator of the Chicago Labor Education Program and professor of history at the University of Illinois, Chicago Circle.

Adelman will present slides and make a presentation on rediscovering the roots of Illinois labor history. Steelworkers, their families, friends and the general public will be welcomed.

Gabriel Shrine 78 honors past and present officers

The October meeting of Gabriel Shrine 78, White Shrine of Jerusalem, was a special event honoring Edna Brown, nobel prophetess and John R. Williams, associate watchman of shepherds, held at the Masonic Temple.

Presiding at the meeting were Dorothy Watkins, WHP, and Jerry Praga, WOS. The honored guests were escorted to the west where they were introduced and presented with a corsage and boutonniere, pinned by Ruth Cox and Sue Williams. Accompanying herself on the organ, Shirley Schwendemann sang, "He's Only a Prayer Away" after which the guests of honor were escorted through a line formed by co-workers to the east where they remained for the evening.

Supreme appointed officers escorted and introduced were Ruth Cox, Gabriel; Nadine Brown, Pride of the West; Dorothy Edwards, Gabriel; Alice Weitkemper, Mount Olive; Betty Henry, Calvary; Irene Little, Gaspar; Clayton Henry, Calvary; and Don Valle, Paul Revere.

Worthy high priestess, Gertrude

Shingleton, was escorted, with past worthy high priestesses Alice Wood, Mary Ellen Lewis, Rose Van Gels, Virginia Graham, Christine Vaughn, Jane Worthen and Chloe Simpson. Past watchmen of shepherds included Albert Van Gels, Bernard Sandefor, Charles Youngs, Albert Weitkemper and Lloyd Lewis.

Advisors recognized were Christine Vaughn, Nadine Brown, Mary Ellen Lewis and Irene Little. A memorial service was given for Charles McCollum, a past watchman of shepherds, who died recently.

Those reported ill were Lucille Lipe, Hannah Kleinschmidt, Betty Girtz, Dora Youngs, John DeHart, Jerry Fisher and Ralph Triplett.

Refreshments and decorating committees includes Lois Heblewaite, Sue Williams, Pat Parker, Lena Wood, Mary Ellen, Lloyd Lewis and Ruth Cox.

After the meeting, refreshments were served in the dining room where tables were decorated with butterflies and bouquets in ceramic baskets.

State appointments noted at Granite 650 meeting

The list of appointments selected by the Worthy Grand Matron Dorothy M. Reynolds for the Order of Eastern Star in Illinois, were announced at a regular meeting of Granite Chapter 650 held in the Masonic Temple, last week.

Following the presentation of the flag by Associate Patron William MacDonough, escorted by Conductress Shirley Schwendemann and Associate Conductress Varsenig Throne, Worthy Matron Betty Kelso and Worthy Patron Neal Kelso introduced two grand lecturers, eight past matrons, a past patron, and six members and visitors who were in the meeting.

Members Hannah Kleinschmidt, Dora Youngs, Betty Girtz, Nancy Meadows, Florence Spahr, and Gerald Fisher were remembered by the all as well as others on the sick list.

Invitations to receptions, given by their home chapters, for newly installed Grand Martha, Frances Spelchinger of Monroe Chapter and Worthy Grand Patron Robert L. Sponsler of Aledo Chapter, were read.

Associate Conductress Vee Throne reported the Christmas fruitcakes, which the chapter will commence.

Nu Zeta hears public defender

Both meetings this month of Nu Zeta Chapter of Beta Sigma Phi Sorority, were conducted in the home of Debra Kelly, president of the chapter.

During the final session the group heard John Rekowski from the Madison County Public Defenders Office in Edwardsville. He spoke on the functions of his office and how the community can be served by them. A question and answer period followed his talk.

During the business segment it was announced the chapter was awarded a certificate of appreciation from Parents Plus Group of the Madison County Mental Health Clinic for volunteer services donated to the organization.

The award was presented at an appreciation dinner hosted at St. Elizabeth Medical Center, attended by Rhonda Dooley and Judy Wassen, it was noted.

During the dinner meeting a representative of Parents Plus announced they have a wooden plaque imprinted with the names of various organization who have offered volunteer services. The plaque is displayed at business locations in Granite City, the president said.

Final preparations are being made for members to complete homemade craft items which will be sold at area fairs throughout the holiday season.

Social affairs planned for the remainder of the month include a Halloween party to be hosted in the home of Deborah Gaultney on Oct. 27 in keeping with the theme of "hobos." Prizes will be awarded for the best costume, the hostess said.

Also, the members will honor its adopted senior citizen with a party on Oct. 28 marking the honorees 84th birthday.

Weddings

Mr. and Mrs. Michael Kuberski

Kuberski-Rainwater

Miss Jae Lynn Rainwater became the bride of Michael Wayne Kuberski on Sept. 1 in an afternoon ceremony at St. Margaret Mary Catholic Church, 1900 St. Clair Ave. The Rev. Frank Kordak officiated at the 2 p.m. service and nuptial selections were provided by organist Robert Tucker and soloists Rob Gay and Sheila Murtin.

Parents of the bride are Judy Ann Rainwater, 1909 Union Ave., and Lanny Rainwater of Granite City. The groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Ted Kuberski, 2613 Mockingbird Lane.

Guests were received at a reception given in the Amvets Hall in Madison immediately following the ceremony.

Lee Ann Bollinger, sister of the bride, attended the bride as matron of honor. Naomi Milnarec, Kristin Wright, Lisa Heaton and Linda Kuberski were bridesmaids.

The groom chose Ted Kuberski as best man. Tom Kurilla, Charles Polach, Dennis Krystopa, Bobby Kuberski, George Pfaffan and Rocky Abbott completed the corps of groomsmen and ushers.

Amanda Taylor served as flower girl, while Sean Kuberski was ring bearer.

A 1981 graduate of Granite City High School North, the bride attended Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville and is employed as a receptionist at County Surgery, Ltd.

The groom is a 1980 graduate of Granite City High School North. He attended Belleville Area College and is employed as a machine operator at Kuberski Excavating.

After a wedding trip to the Pocono Mountains, the couple is residing in Granite City.

Seaman and Mrs. Robert Diserens

Diserens-Taylor

An out of town wedding of interest here was that of Miss Dawn Renea Taylor, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Virgil Taylor Sr., 906 Lafayette Ave., Godfrey, formerly of Granite City, and U.S. Navy Seaman Robert Allen Diserens, son of Mr. and Mrs. Luther Diserens Jr., 1103 Milton Road, Alton, on Oct. 13. The ceremony was performed by the Rev. Edgar Bankhead at 11:30 a.m. in the Forestal Chapel on the Naval Base at Great Lakes, Ill. Nuptial selections were furnished by Tim Morse and Jeff Copley.

A reception followed the service in the church social room and later in the evening a dinner was hosted by the bride's parents at the Cabriolet Restaurant for members of the family and wedding party.

Attending the bride as matron of honor was her sister, Mrs. Bonnie Beth Hecht of Maryland Heights, Mo.

The groom chose Seaman Marty Getchel of Great Lakes as best man. Jeff Copley and Tim Morse seated the guests. Both young people graduated this year from Alton Senior High School. The groom is serving as advanced electrical field fire control technician for the U.S. Navy.

The newly married couple will reside in Zion, Ill.

Meyers-Greenwood

Miss Margaret D. Greenwood of Granite City, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Wilbern D. Wooden Sr. of Alma, Ill., became the bride of Dennis Leroy Meyers, son of Mr. and Mrs. Henry L. Meyers, on Aug. 7, in the city hall of St. Louis.

The Rev. Alfred M. Milam officiated at the 11:30 a.m. ceremony. Immediately following the service the wedding party traveled to Duff's Smorgasbord in Alton for luncheon.

Attending the couple was Miss Phyllis Myers, a sister of the groom, as maid of honor and Terry Meyers of Collinsville, the groom's brother, who served as best man.

The newly married couple honeymooned in Hannibal, Mo., and are now residing locally.

Employed as a nurse's aide at Colonial Haven Nursing Home, the bride also completed a two years and nine months tour of duty with the U.S. Air Force.

The groom is a 1971 graduate of Granite City High School and is self-employed.

Other guests attending the ceremony and luncheon were, Eugenia, Lewis Jr. and Darrin Greenwood, children of the bride, Mr. and Mrs. Wilbern D. Wooden Sr., Rosalie and Lana Lamkin of Alton, Carol Winters, Collinsville, Mark Meyers and John Wooden, of Granite City.

Mr. and Mrs. Dennis Meyers

'WELLNESS' THEME AS ILL. SCHOOL NURSES CONVENTION

The 27th annual convention of the Illinois Association of School Nurses will be held at the Marriott Pavilion Hotel, St. Louis, tomorrow through Sunday. The meeting will be hosted by the Marquette Kaskaskia Division.

Presentations will be made by H. James Pierce, M.D. on keeping well and keeping fit and Lauren Tucker on bulimia. Ruth Sanders, Ph.D., will present School Nurses of the Year awards. Activities will include a Mississippi riverboat dinner cruise. The theme of the convention is "Promoting Wellness."

Better Breathers Club hosts guest speakers

Two speakers made presentations to members of the Better Breathers Club at their October meeting in Pascal Hall of St. Elizabeth Medical Center (SEMC).

Becky Sellemoir from Fox Med Equip Services demonstrated the newest Bunn Filmmi Fighter. This machine is used for patients in cleaning the lungs and can be used in the home. It is helpful, especially to those living alone.

According to Mrs. Sellemoir, this will not take the place of the therapist treatment but is a good help in keeping one in a better health at home. The Filmmi Fighter can be purchased or rented by the month.

Terry Johnson, a registered nurse, spoke to the group about the connection of the lungs and heart and how they work together. Mrs. Johnson explained the importance of the need for the oxygen in the lungs to supply blood to the heart muscles. Many members asked about their medication and Mrs. Johnson informed them about their particular drug.

Members learned about the use of nitro glycerine and the many different forms of the medication available today. She gave members a detailed outline about what happens to the body when one suffers a heart attack. She also detailed how healing occurs and the importance of a recuperation period.

After the business meeting, refreshments were served. Bonnie Brawley from the SEMC business office was given a gift of a Cabbage Patch Baby.

Approximately 35 members and associates attended the meeting. The next meeting will begin at 1:30 p.m. Nov. 13 at Pascal Hall.

Mrs. Christ Costoff attends class reunion

Mrs. Christ (Maxine) Costoff, of Madison, attended the 50th year reunion of the 1934 East St. Louis High School graduating class.

The dinner-dance reunion was held at the Panorama Bowl in Belleville, and was opened with all singing "Hail to the Orange" the school song.

There were 345 graduating seniors in the January and June classes, Mrs. Costoff said.

She noted there was a large attendance at the reunion, with the classmates coming back from almost every part of the nation.

Mrs. Costoff said the social event was a very enjoyable and fun trying to figure out who some of the classmates were that she had not seen for literally 50 years.

Philippians 3:14 "I press toward the mark for the prize of the high calling of God in Christ Jesus."

Everything in God's creation is in forward motion. The universe, nature, and man. We know what would happen to our planet if forward motion stopped. Disaster!

Believe it or not, man too is heading for trouble when his forward motion is stopped. Whatever life hands us, we can't give up. We cannot dwell on past failures. We must keep pressing forward.

Remember that God is on your side. And with God all things are possible. He will never leave you nor forsake you.

There is a prize for those who keep pressing on. A reward for faithful service. Whoever liveth and believeth in Him shall never perish, but have everlasting life. Why not start forward for God today?

Church Activities

Dwight Thompson to appear via satellite crusade

A three-night crusade featuring Dwight Thompson, a television evangelist, will take place at Hartford Assembly of God Church Oct. 29 through 31, via satellite.

"Dwight Thompson is a communicator of the gospel. He's in demand at churches across the country," observes the Rev. Ron Burdum of Hartford Assembly of God Church. "Now, through satellite technology, he'll be ministering here, bringing messages that can turn this community around."

The crusade is open to the public, and there is no admission charge. There will be a free-will offering each night.

Crusade services will begin at 7 p.m. each night. Hartford Assembly of God Church is located at 105 E. Watkins St., Hartford. Additional information about the crusade may be obtained by calling the church at 1-254-9467 or the parsonage at 1-254-0027.

Special singing fest at local GC church

The Rev. Gail Peery, pastor of the 22nd Street and Bryan Avenue church, announces the singing Bickett Family will be the featured musical group to perform at the church on Sunday, Oct. 28.

This family has been featured in many concerts at various states throughout the southwest area of the country and in Arizona they became the first group to record a live gospel album inside a prison.

Terri Peery and The Young Gospel Four will host the special event, the minister said.

The public is invited to attend the singingspiration from 2 to 4 p.m., Rev. Peery added.

Revival services set at Central Free Methodist

The Rev. R. C. Goldsborough will be leading a series of revival services at Central Free Methodist Church on Nov. 5 to 11. He has been much in demand as a speaker in Michigan, Illinois, Indiana, Florida, and Texas, and is currently booking meetings for 1989.

His wife, Kathy, is the president of the Central Illinois chapter of Women's Missionary Fellowship International. She will also attend the services.

Each day during revival week the Goldsboroughs will lead in a "Prayer-N-Share" time at 11 a.m., and evening services will be at 7 p.m. Special "Afterglow" times will follow the evening services on the following nights; grade school - Wednesday night; senior citizens - Thursday night; youth - Friday night; and young adults - Saturday night.

Pastor Kirkham of Central Free Methodist Church invites the public to attend the services. A nursery will be provided, he added.

Musical program to honor gospel trio

The congregation of New Salem Missionary Baptist Church, 1349 Klein St., Venice, will sponsor an appreciation musical program for the North End Trio, a Venice gospel singing group, at 7 p.m. Sunday, Oct. 28.

Several area churches have been invited to attend, with six churches and three singing groups taking part in the program, according to Charles Collins, project chairman. Members of the North End Church of God Trio are Solastine Griggs Johnson, Dorothy Griggs and Wilma Williams. All are residents of the Madison and Venice area.

"These Christian young women have done a fine job in our area," the Rev. John Henry Williams, pastor, said. He urged the public to attend.

Methodist church plans Autumnfest for Oct. 27

The Nameoki United Methodist Church, Primrose Avenue and Pontoon Road, will host its Autumnfest from 9 a.m. to 7 p.m. Saturday, Oct. 27, at the church.

Featured will be a spaghetti dinner and a bazaar.

Quilters of St. John Church continue artistic creations

The quilters of St. John United Church of Christ is an offshoot of the oldest organization of the church now known as the Afternoon Women's Guild. Originally called the Ladies' Aid Society the group organized Aug. 12, 1877 and met for a full day each Thursday to sew for various projects.

In 1963 the members decided to meet every Wednesday for the sole purpose of sewing. Currently there are about 20 women who belong to the group, but the average attendance is 12 to 15 on any Wednesday.

They meet in the Youth Center of the church from 8:30 a.m. to 2:30 p.m. where there usually is two quilts set up in the frames, but as soon as one is finished another is already in and waiting to be started. Anyone who wishes to bring in a quilt top may have it quilted, although the waiting list includes enough work for two years. Last year 26 quilts were completed and the cost ranges from $25 to $60 depending on the amount of work required and the size. Most of the money they earn is contributed, by the quilters, to projects of the church.

Not all the quilters are members of the church, but the women look forward to Wednesday and the restful fellowship of sewing together, according to a guild spokesman.

They enjoy a special kinship around the lunch table, as they share recipes and ideas and new members are always welcome, as the group plans to continue the art of quilting into the 21st century, the spokesman added.

GOLF PROCEEDS. A check for $3,125 is presented to Paul F. Sodko, left, president of the board of the Tri-City Area YMCA, by Mike Bilbrey, chairman of the committee organizing this year's YMCA Golf Classic. At the right is Jerry Swatling, the new executive director of the YMCA. The money was raised through entry fees, corporate and club sponsorship of greens and tees and by a steak social which followed the golf outing. Dave Knollman, Christ Pashoff, Frank Spanninger and Guy Ramseyer shot 14 under par to win the championship flight. Ron Motil, Dan Pelate, John Lotzy and Tom Fields won the A-Flight with a six under par.

New officers are: Jane Yates, vice-president; Sharrlette Maier, treasurer; Gail Wyatt, secretary; Agnes Fryntzko, Area Council delegate; Cheryl Smick, room mother chairman; Lynn Forrester and Linda McFarland, hospitality chairmen; Rose Schwager, historian; Carmen Robbins, Health and Safety officer; Ron Rayl, legislation officer; Elaine Grayson, Area Council delegate and membership officer; Linda McDonnell, cultural arts officer; and J. Wyatt, Area Council delegate.

The group then saw a slide presentation, presented by Granite City School Board Member Dewey Melton, on the upcoming bond issue.

Mrs. Fryntzko, principal, then introduced the school's fourth graders, who sang selections from the musical "Mary Poppins," under the direction of music teacher Mary Jane Foster.

Members of the chorus included: Bill Alexander, Mark Brokaw, Kellie Cahn, Tammy Carroll, Steve Chapman, Wendy Denson, Tammy Dutko, Jason Ferguson, Dava Lynn Flatbush and Chris Hall.

Jason Hall, Carrie Heck, Kim Holloway, Chris Johnson, Jeremy McCauley, Angela McCormick, Shane McFarland, Matt Murray, Jason Nancey and Lynn Ann Novich.

Terry Prather, Stephen Rains, Corey Reed, Chad Revelle, Amanda Riley, Holly Robbins, Tresa Schierling, Shawn Sheikh, Shawn Wallace and Jodi White.

Ricky Whiteside, Kristina Woodruff, Stacie Woodward, Christina Wright, Tara Wyatt, Bobby Wiggins, Angela White, Chris Warren, Jason Warchol and Victor Walther.

Eric Thrane, Alissa Slater, Carla Skoutby, Melissa Singleton, Amy Randall, Sherry Ralston, Elizabeth Owca, Merri O'Brien, Jeanne Lamb and David Klee.

Adelaide Kelly, Stephanie Jacobs, Regan Hildebrand, Sunny Harper, Don Haddix, Jimmy Greene, Nicki Graves, Stephen Glasgow, Michelle French and Jodi Forrester.

Mrs. Fryntzko then introduced the teaching staff. Teachers are: Lyn Loy and Joyce Bolt, kindergarten; Carol Locke and Evelyn Cross, first grade; Sharrlette Maier and Linda McDonnell, second grade; and Arlene Wyatt and Madge Hanson, third grade.

Carole Gendron and Loretta Woodbright, fourth grade; Betty Robertson and John Svoboda, fifth grade; Paul Kindle, Nancy Orris and Barbara Varadian, sixth grade; Joan Schaffner and Jill Conover, special education; Dan Rahm, speech therapy; Marilyn Bilyeu, resource room; Patricia Moore, learning center; Ann Johnson, physical education; Gayle McCormick, Wanda Hubell, Judy Andrews and Sandy Schnefke.

Afterwards, it was announced that the candy folders are due in, and that the yearbook sale is in progress.

The meeting was closed and refreshments were served in the school cafeteria.

RESTRANT AND BATTERY ALLEGATIONS DISMISSED

Circuit Judge Philip Rarick has dismissed two charges against Ricky Salmond, 25, of 123 Grenzer Homes, Madison, approving dismissal motions submitted by the state's attorney. Salmond had been charged May 30 with unlawful restraint and aggravated battery.

The charges had alleged that he cut Loretta Derett with a knife, inflicting a seven-inch forearm cut in addition to a head cut, and that he detained Miss Derett, 19, Venice, against her will. Madison police asserted a suspect was carrying a rifle when they chased him on foot, the man later dropping the weapon and surrendering.

TV, JEWELRY TAKEN

Lorile Prothro of 1129 Bissell St., Venice, told police last week that someone broke into her home, taking a 19-inch television, assorted jewelry and a jacket. Entry was made by kicking in the back door.

LOSES CAR, JEWELRY

Roger Ghal of Coon Rapids, Minn., told police a 1984 Cadillac, leased from Executive Leasing Corp., Golden Valley, Minn., some jewelry items and cash were stolen from him last week. He reported joining a group of people at a Granite City tavern and going with them to a local restaurant to eat prior to losing the property.

Auditions for Youth Orchestra will be Nov. 11

Audition applications now are available for the 1984 Saint Louis Symphony Youth Orchestra Piano Competition, to be held Sunday, Nov. 11, at Powell Symphony Hall.

Auditions are open to pianists under the age of 21 as of midnight, November 2, 1984, who reside or study within a 100-mile radius of St. Louis.

The young pianist selected as winner of the Piano Competition will receive the opportunity to perform as soloist with the Youth Orchestra in the final concert of the 1984-85 Fifteenth Anniversary Youth Orchestra season, Thursday, May 16, 1985.

Leonard Slatkin, music advisor to the Youth Orchestra for its anniversary season, will be a featured conductor of the final concert, Exxon/Arts Endowment. Conducting Assistant Tung Yeh will conduct the piano soloist.

Each Piano Competition applicant must audition with a complete concerto which would be performed in concert should the applicant win. All proposed concertos must meet the approval of the conductor. Music scores may be used at the audition. One copy of the score must be provided for the judges. Any accompanist must be provided by the applicant.

Deadline to apply for the Piano Competition is Nov. 2. For more information, contact the Saint Louis Symphony Youth Orchestra Manager, Powell Symphony Hall, 718 North Grand Boulevard, St. Louis, Mo. 63103, or call 1-314-533-2500.

Classes offered for expectant mothers

The obstetrics department at St. Elizabeth Medical Center is offering free Early Pregnancy and Prepared Childbirth classes.

Early Pregnancy classes are for women less than six months pregnant. These classes are held for three consecutive weeks and offer instruction in nutrition, exercise and breast conditioning. Women also learn how their bodies change during pregnancy and how the fetus develops.

Prepared Childbirth classes are for women from their sixth month of pregnancy until delivery. This five-week series of classes includes the Lamaze method of breathing and relaxation, body conditioning, breastfeeding information, and an introduction to baby care. Participants learn about the process of labor and delivery and the types of analgesics used in labor. A tour of the obstetrics department is also provided.

The next Early Pregnancy series will begin on Wednesday, Nov. 7. Prepared Childbirth classes will be offered beginning on Oct. 30 for the Tuesday night series, and on Nov. 1 for the Thursday night series (for women whose due dates are from Dec. 16 to Feb. 15).

The next series of Prepared Childbirth classes will be offered again beginning in January 1985.

All classes are from 6:30 to 8:30 p.m. at McKinley School. Expectant mothers interested in these classes may register by calling the obstetrics department at 798-3040.

— THANK YOU —

On October 10, I celebrated my first year anniversary as a sole practitioner in public accounting. I want to take this opportunity to thank each and every one who contributed so much to my success. First and foremost, I thank my most valued and appreciated clientele who trusted and believed in me enough to turnover their books and records to me. I also thank all my wonderful friends and business acquaintances who offered so many suggestions and prospective leads throughout the year. Your faith, trust and belief are the most valued assets that I or any other professional person can have and I pray that the Lord bless you for having such feelings for me. My goals for the coming year are to continue giving the best possible service I can to my clients, to never forget the debt of gratitude I owe to my friends for their advice and support, to better serve my community, and above all, to give thanks and praise to the Lord for making it all possible.

A word about trust.

Ours is a very personal business. It is a service business based on performance that leads to trust in Illini Federal. And we are dedicated to maintaining that trust. To that end, we shall continue to offer the products, the services, and the perceptiveness, that people have come to expect of Illini Federal.

Today, Illini Federal has assets of over a half-billion dollars, making us the largest savings and loan in the Metro East region. And we rank among the top 6% of the more than 4,000 savings associations in the United States.

As we approach our one hundredth anniversary, serving some families into the fifth generation, it is comforting to realize that we have never missed an interest payment to our customers.

You, obviously, have trusted us to meet your special financial needs. By doing business with us, you have confirmed that you value responsible service and financial security. These things are very important to you.

As they are to us. And we believe that our steadily increasing financial strength will help us preserve and enhance the quality of the service and security that we offer our customers. Certainly, our larger asset base will allow us to do more of what we believe we already do so well:

- Provide mortgage funds for homes in the progressive communities we serve.
- Provide personal loans to meet our customers' needs.
- Offer you more ways to save for the future.
- Develop innovative tools to help you better manage your money.
- Provide convenient office locations staffed with knowledgeable, concerned individuals.

If you are not currently an Illini Federal customer, we hope you will become one soon.

Trust us. Your friends and neighbors do.

Will GC continue to have a school system?

(Following is a summary of the public comments being voiced by School Board Member Dewey Melton and others on the Granite City District Nine ballot proposals that are about to be decided by local voters.)

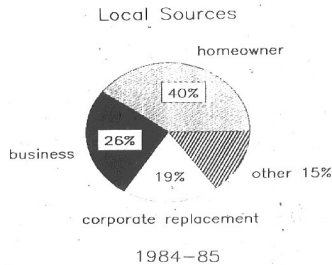

Two questions on the Nov. 6 ballot are of tremendous importance to each homeowner, child and parent in the Granite City community.

Shall the school district issue $6,000,000 in bonds? And shall it raise the education fund rate by 40 cents per $100 of assessed valuation?

School District Nine's 1984-85 budget totals between $25 million and $26 million.

The expense side of this ledger is larger than the income side.

Locally, we generate about 52 percent of this $25 million; 43 percent cent comes from the state and five percent comes from the federal government.

A closer look at the local sources shows the homeowner pays 40 percent. Business pays 26 percent in real estate taxes and another 19 percent in corporate personal property replacement taxes. The other 15 percent comes from fees and such things as mobile home taxes.

With local sources shouldering 52 percent of school costs... and homeowners paying 40 percent of the $25 million.

The homeowner pays only 21 cents of each dollar spent for education in this community.

All school money must be directed to a specific account or fund. Each expense must be paid from one of these accounts. The major funds are Education, Building, Transportation and Bond. The Bond Fund would be used to pay off the bonds.

The Education Fund is the biggest and most general in use. In the July 1984-June 1985 budget, it shows income of $21.2 million and expenses of $21.7 million, a half-million dollars apart. This is the fund that is so deeply in debt.

It is projected that, by the end of this school year, the district will be $7.6 million in debt. Expenses exceed income by $500,000 this year alone.

The net is: Granite City schools are deeply in debt and going deeper. How can we resolve this?

The proposed remedy:
—Issue $6.6 million in bonds to be paid off over 10 years. This would increase the tax rate by 40 cents (45 cents minus the present five-cent working cash fund tax).

—Increase the education fund rate by 40 cents. This would generate an additional $1 million of income each year.

Passage of these two proposals would wipe out the short-term debt and give an opportunity to operate a balanced budget.

The first year's extra $1 million for the education fund would be applied to end the cash debt (the difference between the $7.6 million owed and the $6.6 million obtained from bonds).

The second year's $1 million would meet a special cost, $1 million in early staff retirement expenses that District Nine is obligated to pay under state regulations.

Home assessments here average $16,000 (one-third of the typical home's actual value of $48,000). The Ill. Senate Bill 1790 exemption reduces the assessment by $3,500 to $12,500. At a new school tax rate of about $4.30 per $100 valuation (80 cents added to the present $3.50), this homeowner would pay $37 in yearly taxes to the schools, an increase of $100 over the current $437.

The impact of a $100 school tax increase on those who itemize their federal tax returns would be a $75 cost if the family pays a 25 percent federal rate, $70 if the family is in the 30 percent tax bracket, $60 if in the 40 percent bracket and $50 if in the 50 percent bracket.

On a weekly basis, this cost of $75, $70, $60 or $50 a year would be $1.44, $1.35, $1.15 or $96 cents.

In Granite City, most families are in the 25 percent to 30 percent range. This means the cost to the average family would be about $1.40 per week (70 cents for the school bonds and 70 cents for the education fund).

While discretionary income is limited for most families, if necessary there are probably some small items that could be eliminated from the family budget to help support the schools.

To illustrate the comparative value the homeowner gets for his $437 or $537 school taxes, a survey of non-public schools in this region, shows the yearly cost per student ranges from $1,400 to $5,450.

Last year, Granite City District Nine spent more than $2,700 per student to educate each boy and girl. Counting the years from kindergarten through high school senior, this community spends $34,000 to graduate a student.

At a contribution rate of $537 a year, the average homeowner would need 63 years to pay back—through real estate taxes—the value received if the family has sent just one child through Granite City schools. Most will never contribute back to the schools the total value received.

This school system is one of the finest in this area, if not the finest.

Local children consistently score beyond the national and state norms in standard tests. School District Nine has been a big factor, for many years, in attracting families here. This is an asset Granite Cityans should protect, to keep their residential property valuable.

What happens if the two school proposals don't pass? The district will continue to operate as long as it can. Taxpayers currently have to pay $800,000 to $900,000 in interest expense each year. The financial burden is growing and eventually

NON-SURVIVAL

• STATE COMES IN

• PROBATION (1 YEAR)

*NO EXTRA STATE $

would lead to the next alternative... the non-survival alternative.

We can only keep our school doors open as long as banks loan us the money. As the debt grows, eventually the banks would refuse. What happens then?

These are the steps in the non-survival scenario:

1. THE STATE TAKES control of the assets and operations of the school district.

2. CUTS ARE ORDERED affecting everything that is not mandated by state law.

3. THE DISTRICT IS PUT ON PROBATION for one year.

4. AT THE END of the year, the state determines whether or not the district is able to keep the school doors open to educate the children. If not...

5. THE ONLY REMEDY under law is the breaking apart of our district. Some of our children would be assigned to a neighboring school district, some to another, some to another, and so on.

This has never happened in Illinois. We hope our community will not be the first. But it can happen.

One point should be emphatically stated:
The state will allot NO ADDITIONAL DOLLARS when it takes over.

We hope this presentation has provided information with which to make a rational decision on the two school questions. They can be restated: "Shall Granite City continue to have its own school district?"

We hope the decision will be "YES" to both ballot questions. That is the way Granite Cityans can avoid having their school district broken apart.

In any case, each person—individually and collectively—will be answering a question about our community.

Are we a district with a "sense of community," a "sense of identity," a sense of obligation to our children?

Are we a community with a sense of vitality? One that looks to the future?

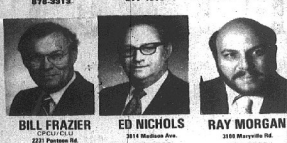

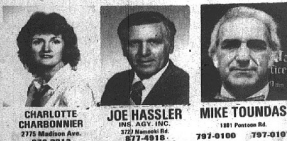

Or, are we something less?

Only the voters can answer such questions. Remember, the key issue to be answered here on Nov. 6 remains...

Will Granite City continue to have its own school system?

Low rates make State Farm homeowners insurance a good buy.

Our service makes it even better. Call me for all the details.

Self-help clinics slated Oct. 29

Stop-smoking and weight-control hypnosis clinics will be held again in this area on Oct. 29. The American Lung Association once again is providing the opportunity for local residents to "re-program" their subconscious minds to make positive life changes.

Clinical hypnotist John Greer said, "Your intellectual mind already knows you shouldn't eat too much and that smoking is bad for your health. But people still keep overeating and puffing on cigarettes. The key is to get the emotional part of your mind to agree with what your intellect already knows."

"Nicotine addiction is not the only thing that keeps smokers from kicking the habit. The psychological hook is the biggest obstacle," he said. "The chemical addiction is withdrawn from your system in three to five days. The psychological addiction can take much longer, and that's how hypnosis helps." Emotions also control a person's eating habits, Greer said. "Like smoking, eating feels good. We learn as young children to associate eating with our most pleasant experiences. Our minds need programming to get our subconscious to believe that all sweets are not rewarding and that it's not sinful if we don't eat every bite on our plate."

During each clinic, participants will learn deep relaxation through three hypnotic inductions. A cassette tape and literature will be provided for home use to reinforce the hypnotic suggestions given by the hypnotist.

The clinics will be held at The Well, 300 Cottonwood Road, Edwardsville. The stop-smoking clinic will begin at 6:30 p.m. and the weight-control clinic will begin at 8:30 p.m. To register, interested persons may call 1-288-5059.

Moose Lodge announces Halloween parade judges

Foster Frederick, chairman of the Moose Lodge 272 Halloween parade in downtown Granite City, has announced the names of the judges for the Oct. 31 event.

The judges will be Granite City Mayor Paul Schuler, state's attorney candidate Dick Allen, Granite City Superintendent of Streets Mac Warfield and Alderman Woodrow Moad.

The event will be co-sponsored this year by downtown Granite City merchants, who plan to keep stores open that night to help celebrate the occasion.

A total of $400 in awards will be presented to paraders whose masquerade costumes are judged most outstanding in various categories. A wristwatch worth $100 will be the grand prize, Frederick said.

Paraders will gather prior to the p.m. starting time outside the City Hall at Niedringhaus and Edison avenues. The Rolling Nobles' Almad Shrine Temple will lead the parade under the supervision of Granite City Police Chief Ronald J. Veizer.

Boost sales and cut costs with rental outdoor lighting from Illinois Power

Increase Sales

Because quality exterior lighting draws attention to your business, you'll get the most out of your location advantage. And that means more sales.

If you display your products outdoors, NITE-LITES can be a powerful merchandising tool. Quality outdoor lighting invites customers to stop and shop.

Reduce Expenses

By renting NITE-LITE outdoor lighting instead of buying your own, you avoid the substantial first cost of a lighting installation, the expense of maintaining it, and the cost of the electricity it uses. In many cases, the monthly rental charge is actually less than the cost of the electricity alone in similar customer-owned systems!

What's more, the rental fee is tax-deductible as a business expense. Add to this the savings from reduced theft and vandalism of business property and you can see why more and more businesses are using outdoor lighting and turning to NITE-LITE service to provide it.

Local banker attends 2-week school session

Randy E. Vollmar of First Granite City National Bank was among more than 1,200 bankers who attended this summer's two-week session of the Graduate School of Banking at University of Wisconsin-Madison. Each one of this year's 40th annual session took two dozen courses ranging from commercial loan analysis to strategic issues in bank management. The students, mostly young, banking executives, receive graduation certificates after attending three of the summer sessions and finishing extra problems between terms.

Begun in 1945 with 47 students from three states, the banking school this year drew from more than 40 states.

Diabetes to be screened at two Granite City sites

November is National Diabetes Month, and as part of this campaign the American Diabetes Association, Greater St. Louis Affiliate, is launching an intensive diabetes detection drive.

Free diabetes screening tests will be offered at more than 160 sites throughout the St. Louis area, with the support of area hospitals, laboratories, pharmacies, retail stores and community organizations.

The screenings in Granite City are scheduled for 9 a.m. to 1 p.m. Saturday, Nov. 3, at Gasen Drug, No. 2 Namewiki Shopping Center, and from 8 a.m. until 8 p.m. Tuesday, Nov. 20, at St. Elizabeth Medical Center, 2100 Madison Ave.

It is estimated that more than 10,000 people will be screened in this metropolitan area.

Diabetes is the third leading cause of death by disease in the U.S., affecting more than 12 million Americans.

Glen North, president of the area affiliate, says, "There are 50,000 undiagnosed diabetics in this area alone. The longer they remain untreated, the greater their risk of developing complications from diabetes—blindness, kidney disease, heart attack, stroke or gangrene."

The goal of the detection drive is to reach the people at highest risk of developing the disease—those who are overweight, are 35 or older, or have a history of diabetes in the family. Women are at a greater risk than men.

Those showing symptoms of diabetes should also be tested, he said. Warning signs of diabetes include frequent urination, excessive thirst, unusual fatigue or weakness, blurred vision, uncontrollable hunger or numbness in the extremities. Diabetes officials say one or more of these signs may be present, or a potential diabetic may experience no symptoms at all.

For an accurate screening test result, a person must eat at least 100 grams of carbohydrates two hours before the test.

A meal consisting of a sandwich, french fries, pie and milk or soda would be suitable.

Persons should not eat or drink anything, except water, after the meal.

A spokesman at 1-314-968-3196 noted that the test is not for known diabetics.

Epilepsy Association forms teenage group

The Epilepsy Association of Southwestern Illinois has announced that a group for young teens with epilepsy is scheduled to begin meeting in late October.

Purpose is to assist young people in learning more about epilepsy, provide an opportunity to share experiences and feelings with peers, and help them learn to live more comfortably with this disorder. The group will meet at a Granite City location, to be determined.

Other services provided by EASI are monthly support groups and seizure clinic services, both at St. Elizabeth Medical Center, and counseling (case coordination services).

For more information or to make a referral to the young teen group or other services, interested persons may call Brenda K. Fabik at 1-386-0680.

Country A-Fair for Hospice

The Belleville Hospice program is planning its first county-wide fundraising event, "A Country A-Fair," an evening of country and western music, dancing, celebrities and activities 6:30 p.m. to midnight Saturday, Nov. 10, at Augustin's Restaurant, Highways 15 and 151, Belleville.

First headliner will be Lee Mace's Ozark Opry with a two-hour show. The Ozark Opry, in existence since 1953, is based in Osage Beach at the Lake of the Ozarks.

"The second half of the evening will feature Bobby's Cowboys, Bobby Menard, band leader, is the owner and operator of Bobby's Good Time Country nightclub and restaurant in Fairview Heights.

WIL Radio's Mark Langston will serve as master of ceremonies. The hospice has completed a 16-member advisory committee, which includes U.S. Sen. Alan Dixon, Cong. Melvin Price and State Rep. Monroe Flinn.

ARTISTS FELLOWSHIP DUE

Applications now are available for the Illinois Arts Council's (IAC) 1985 Artists Fellowship Program (formerly the Artists Grant Program). Through this program, Illinois artists will be awarded up to $5,000 to pursue their artistic goals. A total of $367,000 is available for this program.

The deadline for application is Nov. 1. Artists must fill out a current application form and submit the requested documentation for their discipline.

Illinois residents may apply in the areas of choreography, crafts, design arts/architecture, fiction/poetry, film/video, interdisciplinary/performance art, music composition, playwriting/screenwriting, and visual arts including: painting, sculpture, photography, mixed media, conceptual, artists' books, drawing, printmaking.

Guidelines and applications are available from the Artists Fellowships, Illinois Arts Council, 111 N. Wabash, Suite 720, Chicago, Ill. 60602, phone 312-793-6750.

The Illinois Arts Council is a state agency that provides grants and technical assistance to community arts agencies, individual creative artists and not-for-profit organizations presenting arts programming.

LEAVING SCENE AND DUI CHARGES FOLLOW MISHAP

An accident at 3:25 p.m. Monday on Nameoki Road at Garfield Avenue resulted in the arrest of a man and a woman.

Dwayne T. Ricker, 24, was charged with driving under the influence of alcohol and leaving the scene of an accident. His pickup truck allegedly struck the auto of Sidney A. Diffee, 3201 Wilshire Drive, who had stopped in a southbound lane, waiting to make a left turn.

Diet For The Convoluted Dog

Sick and convoluted dogs need a special bland diet to allow nature to heal the affected organs. The normal diet is usually too harsh and irritating to the stomach and intestines, and all commercial dog foods should be removed from the diet, especially horse meat. Also taboo are milk, bones, and fried foods.

The basic bland diet can be cooked cereals, baby cereals, rice, noodles, or other soft grains. You can add to this protein in the form of chicken or beef broth, or lean beef, chicken or lamb. Cooked eggs are excellent, and buttermilk is recommended because it helps the normal intestinal bacteria to return to normal.

If your dog is running a fever, you must be especially careful. He will be very thirsty, but drinking large amounts of water may result in vomiting. A good idea is to put a few ice cubes in a water dish, which will restrict the amount of water consumed at any one time.
